Custom Receipts—Internal Revenue Receipts—Removal of the Freedmen's Bureau—Internal Revenue Appointments—Naval Changes—Report of General Sherman, Commander of the Middle Division, Together with those of Generals Sheridan, Augur and Terry—Dr. Boynton Sustained.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, November 20, 1868.

Captain William A. Parker is detached from command of the receiving ship Independence, at Mare Island Navy Yard, California, and commander Paul Shirley ordered to relieve him.

The Custom receipts from November 9th to the 14th, inclusive, is $2,248,486.

A large number of the recently appointed Internal Revenue Supervisors have arrived here, and are to-day receiving their instructions from the Commissioner.

The following Internal Revenue appointments were made to-day:

Storekeepers—Eugene Karst, First district, Missouri; Stephen R. Lee, First district, Indiana.

Gaugers—John C. Neely, R. Morley, S. S. Greene, John R. Johnson, Chas. Pearson, Chas. Thielman, First district, Illinois.

Assistant Assessors—W. H. Spencer, C. P. Leiter, John B. Daily, J. C. Baxter, Jas. Shueb, E. B. Adams, J. M. Crawford, Wm. Lee, Eighth district, Ohio.

The nomination of Joseph Belger for Supervisor of Texas was sent to the Secretary of the Treasury this morning.

The Internal Revenue receipts from July 1st to date amount to fifty-two and one third millions; for the present month to a little over four millions, and for to-day two hundred thousand dollars.

The present headquarters of the Freedmen's Bureau will be removed, after the 1st of December, to Howard University, when it is believed there will be a considerable reduction in the force.

The Committee appointed by the ex parte Council of the First Congregational Church of Washington this afternoon adopted a resolution reviewing the difficulties and opposing a dissolution of the pastoral relations, and recommending the minority to await the action of the mutual council in January. This decision sustains Rev. Dr. Boynton and a majority of the church.

Gen. Sherman's report of affairs in the Middle Division of the Missouri has just been received at the War Department, together with those of Gens. Sheridan, Augur and Terry. Gen. Sherman says that these reports show that while the country generally has been at peace, the people on the plains and the troops of his command have been constantly at war. He says he has studied to find some lasting remedy for this war, but without success. Our people will settle on the frontier and travel without precaution, and run after wild posts of gold discoveries, and thus come in contact with hostile Indians. Surveys of public lands continue to be extended and patents granted to occupants to build railroads and establish mail routes as though all was peaceful. Over all these matters the military authorities have no control; yet they are called upon for protection and subjected to all the kicks and cuffs without the privilege of advising or being consulted. So long as these things continue the military forces on the frontier cannot be reduced. He had been directed by the President to subordinate the acts of all the troops to whatever plan of action the late Peace Commission might adopt. This Commission unanimously agreed that all the Indians east of the Rocky Mountains should, as soon as possible, be collected on reservations as far as possible from white settlements and limits of travel, and be maintained by the United States till they can provide for themselves. Other provisions were made, all of which were wise and judicious. Councils had been held by the Peace Commissioners with all, or nearly all, of the tribes, and formal written treaties were made and nearly all confirmed by the Senate. But for some reason Congress did not take action on the chief proposition of the Commission, which related to setting apart the reservation and providing a government for the Indians. People had said this was the cause of the failure in securing a lasting peace. It is always difficult to learn the cause of war on the part of the Indians, as they never give notice beforehand of hostile intentions. The General gives, as near as he can learn, the reasons for the war in General Sheridan's Department. The Indians charged the government with not keeping faith: that their game had been driven away by building the Powder River Road and the Union Pacific Railroad. The Commissioner consulted, and recommended that the construction of the former road be discontinued. It was, however, August before the posts could be withdrawn, and the Indians followed up the parties having the stores in charge, and made raids upon them. They thought the action of the Government was inspired by fear, and they so informed other tribes, urging them to become hostile and they would drive the troops out of the other posts, and force the abandonment of the Smoky Hill line, which runs through the best buffalo hunting grounds in America. The General then proceeds to recite in detail the hostilities of the Indians, which have already been published, to show that the government agents gave them only the kindest treatment, with one exception, that of the agent at Leavenworth. The soldiers knowing an Indian war all work and no glory, submitted to many indignities, hoping that the Peace Commission would secure the withdrawal of the Indians. Gen. Sherman found, on investigation, that the attacks on the Saline, Solomon and Republican were without provocation, yet he delayed striking their camps until he had demanded the actual perpetrators of the acts. This demand failed of success, as the old chiefs could not give up so many of their young warriors. War was then commenced along Smoky Hill and Arkansas roads by the Indians attacking all the white people, who knew nothing of the renewed hostilities.

General Sheridan, seeing war with the Cheyennes inevitable, endeavored to keep the Arapahoes out of it. In a council with them they agreed to keep out of the war and go to the reservation. Instead, however, at the time they agreed to move they were in the war. The Kiowas and Camanches acted in the same way. General Sheridan gives dispatches from the Territorial Governments, setting forth the hostile acts of these Indians. The Governor of Kansas was especially restive under the butcheries perpetrated in that State, and tendered volunteer cavalry to General Sheridan. General Sheridan was doing all he possibly could to afford protection, but with his limited number of troops, could not follow the Indians to their remote retreats. General Sheridan asked General Grant for more cavalry, and it was promptly furnished, and on the 6th of October the Secretary of War authorized the acceptance of one mounted regiment of Kansas volunteers for six months. Gen. Sheridan expects to get these in the field in November, and also expects during the coming winter to so punish hostile Indians that they will not again resort to war. Gen. Sherman believes he will meet with all the success he expects. It is idle for us longer to attempt to occupy the plains in common with these Indians, for the country is not susceptible of close settlement with farms like Missouri and Iowa, and is solely adapted to grazing. All our people there are necessarily scattered, and have more or less cattle and horses which tempt the Indian, hungry and it may be starving for the want of his accustomed game, and he will steal rather than starve, and to steal he will not hesitate to kill. Therefore a joint occupation of that district of the country by these two classes of people, with such opposing interests, is simply an impossibility. The Indians must yield. The Peace Commission has assigned them a reservation, which, if held for fifty years will make their decendents rich, and in the meantime they are promised food while they are learning to cultivate the earth, rear tame stock; but to labor with their own hands, or even to remain in one place, militates with all the hereditary pride of the Indian, and who must be used to accomplish this result. It was for this reason that the Peace Commission, at its Chicago session in October, after the events before described had occurred, and were known to them, was forced to the conclusion that the management of Indian affairs should be transferred back to the War Department, where it belonged prior to 1840. That Department of our Government is the only one that can use force without the circumlocution now necessary, and no other Department can act with prompness and vigor enough to give any hope that the plans and purposes of the Peace Commission will be carried out. Even then there is doubt that the Indians themselves will make the necessary personal efforts to succeed, and I fear that they will, at least, fall back upon our hands a mere mass of helpless paupers. I am fully aware that many of our good people, far removed from contact with these Indians, and dwelling with a painful interest in the past events, such as are described to have occurred in Minnesota in 1863, and at the Chivington massacre of 1864, believe that the whites are always in the wrong, and that the Indians have been forced to resort to war in self-defence, by actual want, or by reason of our selfishness. I am more than convinced such is not the case in the present instance, and I hope I have made it certain I further believe that the only hope of saving any part of the Indians from utter annihilation is by a fair and prompt execution of the scheme suggested by the Peace Commission, which can alone be done by Congress, with the concurrence of the Indians themselves. Even then it will require much patience and hard labor on the part of the officers who execute the plan, which I do not wish to assume myself, or impose on other army officers, but it is certain that the only hope to find any end of this eternal Indian war is in the transfer of the entire business to the War Department, and for Congress to enact the laws and provide the necessary money at least a year before it is required to be expended. Gen. Sheridan then details the expenditure of money appropriated by Congress and concludes as follows: I propose to continue as now to have Gens. Terry and Augur protect the Missouri River traffic, and the Union Pacific Road, with zealous care and so gather in all wandering bands of Sioux to the reservation north of Nebraska. Gen. W. S. Harney is prepared to feed and protect them to the extent of the means subject to my control, and to punish the hostile Indians of his department till they, of their own volition, will go to Fort Cobb and remain there on the reservation assigned them, under the care of Gen. W. B. Hazer, who is also prepared, to a limited extent, to provide for their necessities. This double process of peace within their reservations, and war without, must soon bring this matter to some conclusion.

THE LATE ELECTION.

North Carolina, Georgia, Indiana, Ohio.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 20.—The Herald's Raleigh, N. C., special says: Official returns from the Seventh district inicate the election of Durham, Democrat, to Congress by a majority of eighteen in the twenty counties. The vote of Yancey county, however, received yesterday, the last day, is informal, and will probably be thrown out, which would elect Jones, Republican, by a majority of fifty-four. Both candidates claim to be elected, and either will contest the seat of the other on the ground of fraud on the one hand, and intimidation of voters on the other. The matter will come before the Council of State, which meets on Saturday, and which will probably decide that the vote of Yancey county is illegal, and thus secure the seat for Mr. Jones. Congress will have to decide which candidate is elected in the end. The Congressional delegation is politically the same as in the last Congress, six Republicans and one Democrat, the latter, Shober, from the Sixth district.

ATLANTA, Ga., November 20.—Complete official returns give the total vote for President at 159,000. Seymour's majority is 45,263.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 20.—Grant's official majority in Indiana is 10,146. Republican gain over the vote of October of 9,185.

COLUMBUS, O., November 20.—The official vote in Ohio at the November election is: Grant, 280,222; Seymour, 239,032. Grant's majority, 41,190.

UTAH.

Rich Gold Mines Discovered—The Ore Tested—Crushing Mill in Operation.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. LOUIS, November 20.—A Salt Lake dispatch says: New and rich gold mines have been discovered on White River, the ore taken out paying from five to seven thousand dollars per ton.

Assays have been made of the ore, yielding from ten to fifteen thousand dollars per ton.

An ore crushing mill is already in operation, and large quantities of the ore are being shipped to Austin for reduction.

A Righteous Verdict.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

UTICA, N. Y., November 20.—The jury in the case of William Henry Carswell, indicted for murdering Abbey Elizabeth Sanders, a little girl only eight years and six months old, in the town of Annsville, in April last, this afternoon brought in a verdict of guilty. The evidence shows that the murderer first despoiled his little victim and then brutally cut her throat. Judge Morgan will sentence him at nine o'clock Friday morning.

HAVANA.

Progress of the Revolution—Decree of the Acting President—Chiefs in Command—Rumored Defeat of the Government Troops—Arrival of Gen. Volmacoda—Five Hundred Insurrectionists Surrender—News from Port au Prince—Captain General Lersundi Gives a Banquet to the Officers of the American Squadron.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The Herald's Havana special says: From revolutionary sources we learn that Col. Cespedez is acting as Provisional President in the absence of Col. Aquilera. He has issued a decree ordering all native males between the ages of eighteen and forty to be enrolled in the active service under a penalty, and in case of failure, that they be declared enemies. All native male persons between the ages of forty and sixty must do home guard duty.

Gen. Mariano commands the Eastern Department; Aguero the Central, the other chiefs being Marinol, Sanesteban, Berdoues and Peralta.

The latest news by telegraph received last night from Puerto Principie, announces that the Government troops who were besieged by the Governor in a convent, had surrendered to the insurgents.

At Jilara the insurgents whipped the Government troops.

Valmacoda has arrived with troops at Puerto Principe, and will immediately open the campaign against the insurgents in conjunction with the forces of Cols. Lano, Campillo and Queros. A telegram was received from Valmacoda which announces that five hundred insurrectionists had presented themselves to him and been pardoned.

The following intelligence has been received from Port au Prince. After the bombardment of Jeremia, President Salnave bombarded for five hours the town of Misagoane, but was finally repulsed. Many of his picquets on shore surrendered to the revolutionists.

The districts of Borne and St. Nicholas have joined the revolution.

All the foreign Consuls have been notified by Salnave that he intended shortly to attack the towns of Jackson and St. Mark.

An American Man-of-War was looked for with anxiety. Several other nations have vessels in this port, but there has been no American vessel here since September.

The Government continues to purchase and sell all the coffee and mahogany for the purpose of raising revenue.

The Revolutionists are increasing in numbers.

Capt. Gen. Lersundi says the statement that five hundred rebels had surrendered and had been pardoned, which was published in the Diaris this morning, is greatly exaggerated. The fact is that despatches to the government report that only about fifty men so far has given themselves up; but small parties of insurgents are continually coming into Porto Principe, who have abandoned the rebel cause.

A banquet was given by the Captain General to-day, at which Admiral Hoff and the officers of the American squadron were the principal guests. General Lersundi made a speech in which he admitted that had he been born in the United States he would in all probability have been a Radical Republican: but being a native of Spain he was a Constitutional Monarchist, with liberal ideas. He closed with a toast to the American Union and its rulers and people.

Admiral Hoff offered a toast in honor of Spain, saying the government of Spain and the United States had been friends for seventy years, and friends he hoped they would remain. The toasts were received with great applause.

ST. LOUIS.

Paschle House Lottery Repudiated—Treaty of Peace Signed—Typo Assaulted—A Railroad Proposition—Mob Burns a Printing Office.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, November 20.—George King, a well known resident of this city, has filed a petition in the Circuit Court, setting forth some curious facts regarding the Paschle House Lottery. King put his house in the scheme, and it was drawn by the Association, but not receiving as big a share as he thinks himself entitled to he repudiates the whole thing and denounces it as illegal.

An Omaha dispatch says Red Cloud, the famous chief of the Sioux Indians, and several other chiefs heretofore hostile, signed a treaty of peace and promised to behave themselves.

The printers' strike in Leavenworth continues. A printer named Campbell arrived there on Wednesday to work on the Bulletin and was assaulted and badly treated.

A proposition is pending in Leavenworth for the construction of a railroad from that city to Atcheson, to connect with the Central Pacific, thence to Fort Kearney and the Union Pacific Railroad.

A Salt Lake dispatch to the Democrat says the hanging of three roughs at Bear River City on the 11th, and previously reported, created great excitement, and that a mob of some two hundred men burned the Frontier Index office and the jail. The citizens armed themselves and fired on the mob killing ten and wounding a number. It was feared the whole town would be burned, and the women and children were fleeing for safety. Bear River City is eighty miles east of Salt Lake.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Vessel Wrecked—Earthquakes—Flour and Wheat Markets.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, November 19.—The ship Hellespont, Capt. Soule, from Melbourne, Australia, was wrecked this morning about thirty miles south of this point. Seven of her crew were saved, and eleven are missing, including the Captain and Mate. The vessel immediately went to pieces, and will prove a total loss.

A heavy shock of an earthquake was felt at Millerton, Tulare county, on November 5th. The walls of the Court House were badly cracked. The waters of the San Joaquin river were disturbed. A slight shock was also experienced at Austin, Nevada, on November 17th.

Flour, for export, at $4,75@5,75. Wheat; since the rainy season has commenced the market is easier; shipping at $1,75@1,80.

Snow Storms.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, November 20.—A heavy snow storm is reported on the plains in the vicinity of Fort Dodge. The snow is said to be two feet deep.

WASHINGTON, November 20.—This afternoon a snow storm commenced, and is continuing to-night with high winds from the northwest.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 20—The first snow of the season fell to-day, continuing two hours.

MONTREAL, November 20.—An ice bridge is said to be formed at Ramasky, on the Lower St. Lawrence. The canal is blocked with snow. Weather mild and snowing.

RIO JANEIRO.

American Street Railway Opened—Advices from Paraguay—Lopez Besieged.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 20.—The American Street Railway in Rio Janeiro was opened to traffic on the 9th, of October, in the presence of the Emperor and an immense concourse of citizens. The average daily receipts are twice the estimated amount.

Fifty-three millions of dollars was subscribed at Rio the first week in October as a loan to the government, which only asked fifteen millions.

Advices from Paraguay state that the allies are besieging Lopez at Villeta, and that four iron clads had passed the forts there, and that 7,000 Brazilian troops are marching along the west bank of the Paraguay river, with the intention of crossing to Ascension, thence descending to Villeta to take Lopez in the rear.

Coffee at Rio was unchanged in price.

What Lieut. Gov. Gleason Says.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TALLAHASSEE, November 20.—Lieut. Gov. Gleason called at the Capital to procure a copy of the manual of the two last regular terms of the Legislature. He was received by Capt. Corse, Gov. Reed's Adjutant General. During the interview Gleason expressed the kindest feeling towards Gov. Reed, and said he had no personal feeling in the matter of the impeachment; and that the action he had taken was forced upon him by the action of the Legislature and the position he holds in the government of the State.

Rich Silver Deposits Discovered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 20.—Rich discoveries of silver deposits are daily made at the White Pine Regions, Nevada. Notwithstanding the near approach of winter a great rush of people to that region, shows great richness. Silver, most incredible silver, taken out by millions. Many San Francisco capitalists are investing large sums in the White Pine District.

NEW YORK, November 20, 1868.

FURTHER OF THE FISTIC PASTIMES.

A prize fight between Matt. Conklin and Bill Hogan, for four hundred dollars a side, took place yesterday near Narrowsburg, New York. The match was made last September. The principals were well trained, and entered the ring in fine condition. Twenty-six rounds were fought, occupying one hour and twenty minutes. The latter was seconded by Matt. Boyle and Bill Rutter, and Hogan by his brother and a man named Vance. Mr. S. Lowden was the referee. Both men were badly punished.

ACTION OF CIGAR MANUFACTURERS.

At a meeting of the Cigar Manufacturers Association of this State, to-day, a resolution was adopted that the unreasonable action of the Cigar Maker's Union having proved that there is no prospect of coming to an equitable adjustment of the difficulties between the two associations, all workmen belonging to that Union will be discharged on the 27th inst., and no men belonging to the Union will be hereafter employed by any member of the Association, and that the advance recommended by the Association at the last meeting be adhered to as far as non-Union cigar makers are concerned. A circular asking co-operation is to be addressed to all cigar manufacturers in the United States and Canada.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT BANK ROBBERY.

A bold attempt was made this morning to rob the Third avenue Central Park Savings Bank. Over one hundred thousand dollars was secured by a man named Joseph Howell, and another man, whose name is unknown, but dropped in their haste to get away from the officers of the bank. Howell seemed to have drawn their attention from the safe by a specious pretence, while his confederate robbed it. No arrests.

FILLIBUSTERS STILL ACTIVE.

The leaders of the Cuban fillibustering scheme still persist in their intention. They say all the men required have been obtained, and fully equipped, and the only want is transportation. The flag of the expedition is exhibited at 446 Broome street, and consists of red and blue bars, with white ground, in one corner of which is a lone star. It is said here that a large force is concentrated at Memphis ready to sail at an hour's notice.

LOOKING AFTER INCENDIARIES.

Fire Marshal Brackett has detailed several officers to search for the persons who set fire to the stables on the east side of the city yesterday. The three persons arrested yesterday were discharged, the evidence against them being insufficient. It is generally believed the object was to set fire to a large portion of the city, and considerable excitement is occasioned thereby.

TIME ENOUGH WHEN HE IS DEAD.

The World to-day, alluding to the proposition to nominate Attendorfer, of the Staats Zeiturg, for Mayor says an editor may indeed have made Mayors, elected Governors, and invented Presidents; but is this such a heinous business that he should undergo the transmigration therefor. It is time enough when he is dead for the Potter to become incorporate with his clay.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

A number of citizens met last night at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to consider the expediency of making an independent nomination for Mayor. Among those present were Peter Cooper, Postmaster Kelly, and others. The session was strictly private, but it transpired that a majority had expressed themselves in favor of nominating W. E. Curtis for the position.

Petroleum Items.

A new well was struck on the Woods Farm a day or two ago, and yesterday it was producing at the rate of seventy-five barrels per day. The working interest is owned by Mr. H. Cullum.

About ten days ago a new well was struck on the Blood Farm. It is now producing ninety barrels per day. The production of other wells has fallen off sixty-five barrels, so that the aggregate is now but four hundred and fifty barrels per day. The company that own the Farm have determined to give no more leases on it, preferring to develop the rest of it on their own account. They are now putting down a test well about half way between the developed portion of the Farm and the old Reed well on Lower Cherry Run.

A thirty barrel well was recently struck on the Benninghoff Farm. It is owned by Major Newton.

A new well on the Mason Farm, Benninghoff Run, owned by Jonathan Watson, is being tested.

A new well was struck on the Dawson farm, Pleasantville, on Monday forenoon, and is producing about seventy-five to one hundred barrels per day. The working interest is owned by Robert Foggin.

The Ritchie well, Lease 97, Armstrong farm, Pleasantville, commenced pumping on Tuesday, and is doing about 40 barrels per day.

Weather Prophecies.

"G. A." gives the following weather indications from the 14th of November to the 13th of December: Cloudy and variable, twenty-four days; rain or snow, or both, seventeen days; sunshine, five days. Indications point to a raw, cold and gloomy month. There may be one or more sharp freezing days in which if the ground is frozen hard it will shortly be followed by a copious rain storm; the weather will be unpropitious for covering in buildings; the freezing may be from the 1st to the 10th of December; the winter may be a natural cold winter, beginning about from the 20th to the 31st of December. Snow falling on hard frozen, dry ground will not remain, but only on ice, mud, or a previous layer of snow.

Railroad Accident.

On Thursday evening the express train on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, which left Pittsburgh at seven o'clock, ran over a cow, a short distance this side of Lawrenceville, killing the animal and throwing the engine of the train off the track, by which it was damaged to a considerable extent. No person was injured by the accident, but the trains were all delayed. The express train, yesterday morning, left on time from Lawrenceville, the passengers being transported to that station in omnibusses of the Excelsior Line. At last accounts the track had not been cleared.

Amusement Directory.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Chanfrau, the inimitable Sam, as Sam, this afternoon and evening.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Kate Fisher, the daring equestrienne, in Mazeppa, will open the "Old Drury" on Monday evening next.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—The London vocalist, Mrs. Anna Hindle, and a new drama entitled "Woman's Rights."

BURNELL'S MUSEUM.—The usual attractions in the way of a parlor menagerie and museum.

Brilliant Wedding.—St. Johns Cathedrel, Cleveland, was the scene of a most brilliant wedding party, on Wednesday last, on which occasion Mr. John J. Purcell was united in wedlock to Miss Josephine Burgess. The ceremonies incident to such occasions came near being marred from the fact that some person through malice, envy or jealousy, in order to prevent the organist, Mr. J. T. Wamelink, formerly of this city, from presiding at the instrument, locked the organ, stuffed the keyhole, hid the key and lifters of the bellows, and also carried off the key of the music case. The organ was finally opened and otherwise arranged so that the ceremonies were not embarrassed by reason of this ungracious act.

Reported Death of Liszt.

A report comes from Germany that Liszt has died suddenly at Weimar; but as the intelligence has not been sent by cable, and is mentioned in only one London paper, we trust it is untrue. Liszt was born in 1809, and has from his childhood been acknowledged as the leading pianist of the world. Of late years he has been widely known as an orchestral composer. In 1863 he took holy orders in the Roman Catholic Church, entering a convent in Rome. The rules of his Order were not, however, strictly enforced in his case, and his career as a musician was only temporarily interrupted by his religious vows.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

For the Pittsburgh Gazette.

ADIO, MA CŒUR!

The dew-drop is never so clear,
  As when morning's first ray sees it glisten;
And music is never so dear,
  As when to its last notes we listen.

We never know how we have loved,
  'Till what we've most loved has departed;
For the truth of affection is proved,
  By the cheerless and desolate hearted.

So pleasures are born but to die,
  And linked to our hearts but to sever;
Like stars shooting 'thwart a dark sky,
  Shining loveliest when fading forever.

W. F. B.

FLORENCE'S LOVE.

BY H. H. BOONE.

The day was damp and chilly. The foliage of the trees hung limp and motionless in the air; or, now and then, shivered and rustled while the cold breeze ran through it. The bleakness outside caused me to shrink closely within my comfortable room, while Florence touched the cords of the piano, in the parlor below, with such pathos as to make me weep, though I scarcely know why! Scarcely know why? Ah, me! I think so; and yet why did a picture float before my mind, a photograph of the incidents and actors of other days, when I heard those same pathetic tones drifting through my consciousness, like fragments of heavenly dreams?

Tears are unbecoming—so the world says; and the world is a most reliable oracle; therefore, I repressed them with a determined will, and turned them back upon the brain! But still Florence played. I wondered if she, too, was weeping? Where were her thoughts? Full well I knew. They were going forth, like mourning virgins, to the burial of a life-joy—a joy which died and left her utterly desolate, and widowed her soul. I frequently wonder why some hearts are peculiarly tried in the alembic of suffering and temptation, while others go through life without an experience which stirs them from the regular monotony of ordinary existence. Certain people alternate between joy and sorrow, from year to year, until they are but shadows of their former selves; others live along upon the same plane, from day to day, without any event to clearly mark a single hour. I say that I wonder at these things—and the more so, while I listened to the music which Florence was sending forth upon the air, and which I knew was a requiem.

Shall I give a retrospect, and thus explain my meaning?

One summer, when the heated term came on, my ward, Florence, fatigued with the studies of her graduation year, besought me to give her a glimpse of country scene. I was at once disposed to yield to the request of the child, as I had been accustomed to call her; but a desire to tease her, and thus make her doubly charming by the naive way in which she would importune me to grant the favor, caused me to give an evasive answer.

"O, but you must consent! Haven't I been studious during the past year? Haven't I practiced my music, toiled over my Butler, fretted over my Latin, and cried over my mathematics, until my mind seemed to have no room for anything but study? Of course I have! There, now, you will let me go; that's a dear, good man! Don't knit your brows, and look so solemn; for you will only have the trouble of unknitting them; and that will not be convenient, perhaps. Now I have it all arranged, Kate Payson and I talked it over, the night before we graduated. She is going to the sea-shore; and I—I—am to accompany her—that is, if you will consent! And I know you will, won't you? Please say yes?"

The beautiful girl stood looking into my face, the very embodiment of beauty. Her eyes, which at ordinary times were blue as the skies of summer, were almost black with animation and expectancy. Her cheeks were slightly flushed, and her lips parted by the sweetness of smiles. For the first time I realized that the child Florence had developed into a beautiful maiden. Her voice and figure carried my mind back to the times when her mother, my cousin, played with me on the lawn at Willowbrook. Those were royal years for us both! One day, however, she stood under the branches of the old apple tree, and blushingly told me of her love for one to whom she was about to confine her future. My heart gave a sudden leap, and then was still as death! My cousin, in her own embarrassment, did not notice my agitation. Ever afterwards, I carried a deep love in my heart of which nobody knew, except myself. And this is the reason why I remain a bachelor. Afterwards, a strange destiny placed Florence, the child of my cousin, in my care and that of my widowed sister, who presided over my household. Her father and mother had been the victims to a fatal epidemic, and their dying request was that I should be the guardian of their child. How little they understood the sad pleasure with which I consented to grant their wishes!

I need not give the details of the years of anxiety and joy which came to me, after little Florence became an inmate of my house. I leave such matters to the compression of those who have human idols which they worship.

Florence stood before me, as I have before remarked, developed into a beautiful maiden. What could I do but consent to her carrying out the plains which she and Kate Payson had arranged? I had a morbid foreboding of evil which would come to her, if I yielded; yet I thought that it arose from a possibility that I had outgrown the tastes and desires of youth; and so, when Florence stood on tip-toe, putting her white arms around my neck, and kissing my bearded face, I was compelled to surrender and say, "Yes," to her.

A few days subsequently, her trunks were packed, and she joined her friend Kate, with whom she proceded to the sea-coast. I remained in town but a short time longer, and then left for the interior of the country, where most of my time was spent in fishing and hunting. I was too remote from the borders of active civilization to receive either letters or newspapers by post; but I had instructed my clerk to forward by special messenger any communication which was of sufficient importance to demand my immediate presence.

One afternoon, when the air was exhilarating and most delightful, when the sunlight sifted itself through the leaves of the grand old trees around me, and the insects droned their long unceasing notes, I threw myself prostrate on the ground, in a shady spot, where I could watch the fish in the deep clear pool below me. Some weeks had elapsed since I had left the haunts of civilization, and for some reason, a longing came over me to return to business again! This feeling came upon me suddenly and inexplicably, the atmosphere so balmy and delightful, seemed to become oppressive. I looked toward the western sky to see if a storm was approaching, but I could discern nothing but silvery clouds which could harbor in their bosom a single trace of a storm. A power very mysterious was urging me homeward. I stood erect, and stirred myself most vigorously; and my singular sensations remained unchanged. When I returned to our tent, I found a stranger there with the guide. He advanced toward me and said: "Is this Mr. Jennison?"

I replied that such was my name.

"Then I bring dispatches to you," was his response, at the same time placing a letter in my hand.

LOOKOUT BEACH, Sept. 3, 18—.

Mr. Jennison—Dear Sir: I regret to say that Florence is alarmingly ill. If you will hasten here immediately, you will confer a favor on her and me. In haste.

KATE PAYSON.

As fast as possible, I made my way to the nearest railroad depot, and then was rapidly whirled over the intervening distance between there and Lookout Beach. At last I stood by the bedside of Florence. She was sleeping when I entered the room. Ah, how she had changed since I had last seen her! Her cheeks were as white as the pillows on which she rested. Her long hair dishevelled, lay upon her bosom and around her shoulders, and her lips were thin and bloodless.

"Poor child!" was my first suppressed ejaculation.

Just then she opened her eyes, and, looking up at me, said, "They buried him in the sea! They buried him in the sea! I saw them lower his body into the deep waters, while the moonbeams were shining on his face!"

No word, no look of recognition, "What does this mean?" was my inquiry of Miss Payson.

"I will tell you in a moment," she answered, sobbing out almost every word.

"Oh, sir, it is fearful! fearful! I have not the strength to speak to you at length!"

Just then Florence sat upright in bed and exclaimed, "Yes, it is fearful! They have buried him out of my sight forever! And they will never, never bring him back to me!"

The poor, weak child then sank backward, and was soon in a gentle slumber. As soon as Kate could calm her own agitation, I gathered the following facts from her:

During one of Florence's visits to the home of Miss Payson, she had become acquainted with a young gentleman by the name of Carl Hoffman, a native of Germany, but long a resident of this country. His fortune being considerable, it enabled him to live a life of leisure; and his education being excellent and his tastes refined, he devoted himself to those accomplishments which are attractive and elegant. Most of his time was spent at the studios of artists or at musical conservatories; and he himself was no indifferent artist, and was a fine musician. He was a handsome man—so Miss Payson said; and it was not surprising that Florence was attracted towards him. Sometimes he sat at the piano and improvised the most wonderful musical fancies, which held his listeners spell-bound. At other moments he discoursed upon the fine arts with such poetic fervor as to delight the dullest mind. But I will not dwell upon this point. Sufficient is it for me to say, that the drama which had begun in Miss Payson's drawing room, was resumed at Lookout Beach; and at last Carl and Florence stood side by side as avowed lovers, only awaiting my sanction when the season was over.

One evening, Carl sat at the piano in one of the saloons of the hotel, playing "La Reve," that piece which is filled with all the pathos of a sad heart. Now and then, the promenaders paused before the instrument, or on the verandah outside, listening for a moment, and then going away with sober faces. Florence trembled with an undefined fear. Suddenly Carl suggested a sail upon the ocean; and, ten minutes later they were dashing over the white waves. But the boat never came back; for, by the carelessness of the pilot of another boat, a collision occurred, and the bark went down. In the confusion which followed, Carl having been injured, was drowned; but his affianced was saved by the men who survived. They bore her lifeless body to the hotel, where her friends took charge of her. For a long time it seemed impossible to restore her to consciousness; and when at last her eyes opened, they gave only a vacant stare, while she chanted the wailing melody of "La Reve."

Sadly I listened to the recital of the foregoing facts; and more sadly I listened to the opinion of the physician that my ward would probably forever be a harmless maniac. Weeks subsequently, we bore her home where we hoped that familiar scenes would restore her reason; but, month after month she restlessly wandered from room to room, murmuring, "Carl! Carl! Come back to me, Carl!"

The holiest mission which I now have is to watch over this unfortunate girl. Slowly the days drag by for her. Rapidly she is fading. In a very little time, she will be at rest, and the white chaplet of death will be upon her bosom.

Till then, dear Florence, my home is yours; and when you have been placed away in the sepulchre, the memory of your sad face, and your wild, beseeching words, will linger with me to the end.

Cotton Manufactures.

It is a fact not generally known, that all the ordinary cotton fabrics are imitations of the original manufactures of India, and bear the native names of the places where they were once made. Calico is a general name applied to the plain white cloths made from cotton. As the quality and the strength of calico are increased, it is called long cloth, duck and double warp. Calico shirting is made to imitate linen, which it has superceded; sheeting is calico in like manner substituted for linen sheeting. Printed calicos, or briefly, prints, were originally imitations of Eastern fabrics, but have long been produced in infinite variety and quantity. In the United States the term calico is restricted by popular usage to prints. Chintz is a variety of print in which the figure has at least five different colors; they often possess great beauty of design and richness of color.

Muslin is distinguished from calico by no essential difference, except its superior fineness. The Indian muslins are made of a tissue so delicate as to justify the name given to them in the East, "webs of woven wind." Of a specimen in the Museum of the East India Company, twenty yards of the yarn weigh only a grain, and a pound would reach one hundred and fifteen miles. In England yarn has been spun so fine that a pound would extend one hundred and sixty-seven miles, but this could not be woven by machinery. Though some machine-made muslins are finer than those of India, they are less rich, soft and durable.

Cotton damasks, &c., are made to imitate linen fabrics of the same name. Cotton ticks are plain or twilled, and sometimes composed partly of linen. Ginghams are thin checked cottons. Counterpanes are woven with little protuberances of various patterns; a more elegant species is the Marseilles quilts, which have double cloth, with a softer fabric quilted between them in the loom. Jeans are twilled cottons; satin jeans have a glossy satin surface. Dimity a curtain fabric, is both plain and striped. Fustian is a coarse, stout, twilled fabric, including many varieties.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, November 20, 1868.

There is no improvement to note in the tone of the general markets, either as regards demand or prices, and business generally continues very dull. The impression still gains strength slowly, that Flour and Grain have about touched bottom, but the experience of the past two or three months makes operators apprehensive about the future, and as a consequence, as yet, there is but little, if any, disposition manifested to pitch in again.

APPLE BUTTER—Sales at 70 to 75 in kegs, and 80 to 85 in crocks.

APPLES—Continue to arrive freely, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained, ranging from $2 to $4 per bbl.

BUTTER—Is quiet but steady with regular sales at 35 to 40c, for good to choice Roll.

BEANS—Unchanged; sales of small white at $3,75 to $4 per bushel.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Dull; sales at 4½ to the trade, and 5 in a jobbing way.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged at 17 for Hamburg, and 19 to 20 for Goshen.

CIDER—Is selling all the way from $6 to $10 per barrel, as to quality and size of barrel.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged; we quote Peaches at 12 for quarters, and 14 for halves. Apples 9 to 10 cts.

EGGS—Unchanged at 33c.

HOMINY—Sales at $6,50 to the trade, and $7 in a retail way.

HAY—Baled continues dull; sales on wharf of 280 bales prime at $21 to $22. It is but proper to remark that it was a consignment, and had to be sold.

ONIONS—In good supply and very dull; we now quote at $3,50 to $4 per bbl.

POTATOES—Peach Blows are still quoted at 75 in bulk, and 85 sacked. Jersey Sweets $4,50 to $5 per bbl.

GRAIN—The Grain market is a little stronger, though there is no improvement in the demand, and no change in prices. Wheat is dull, and nominal, at $1,75 to $1,80 for Winter and $1,35 for No. 1 Spring. Oats quoted at 62 to 63 on track and wharf, and 65 to 66 in store. Corn is dull and difficult to quote correctly; new is quoted at 65 to 70 and dull; old dull and unchanged. Rye is nominal at $1,35 to $1,40. Barley is firmer and higher in Chicago, but, as yet, there seems to be nothing doing here. Prime Spring may be quoted at at $1,80 to $1,85.

PROVISIONS—The demand for Bacon, as is usually the case at this season of the year, is very light, and we do not look for much until after new meat is ready. Lard and Mess Pork remain about the same as last quoted.

LARD OIL—No. 1 Winter is strained is still quoted at $1,50.

SALT—Is in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at $1,75 on track, and $1,90 to $2, in store.

TALLOW—Prime rendered is in steady demand at 12c.

FLOUR—The Flour market appears to be a shade firmer, though there is no perceptible improvement in the demand, and no change in prices. We quote Spring Wheat brands at $7 to $8, for fair to choice. Rye Flour, $8,25. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in bbls, $9,90 and in sacks $9,60 per bbl; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40. and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and in sacks, $9,50; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,30, and in sacks, $10 per bbl.

WHISKY—Is quiet and unchanged at $1,20 for both Highwines and Rectified.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, November 20, 1868.

The oil market was again very much excited to-day, though the sales were not as large as those of yesterday. Refined is still the main centre of attraction, Crude being comparatively neglected, though it, too, has advanced. It is said that the sales of Refined yesterday footed up one hundred and thirty-five thousand barrels, and, if that be correct, we have no doubt that the sales for the two days will aggregate close on to two hundred thousand barrels. As to the cause of this unprecedented excitement, and unprecedented heavy sales, nothing definite can be assigned, further than it is entirely speculative.

CRUDE.

The market, although very firm and higher, is comparatively neglected, the transactions being insignificant; we suppose that after the flurry is over in Refined, that there will be a regular onslaught on Crude. Sales 900 bbls (40 to 45 gravity) at 11c; 1,000 do, same gravity and delivery, at 11¼c, and 1,000 bbls, first half of 1869, seller's option, at 11c.

REFINED.

As already intimated, was again very much excited to-day and firm, though the sales were not as large as those of last year. Spot oil, as well as the last half of November, ruled higher than yesterday, and futures, also, were firmer, though without quotable change. November—last half sold at 30c; December at 29½; first half of 1869, 30½c, and last half, 33 to 33½c; April to December, 32½c. The sales reported aggregated about 30,000 bbls; we presume, there were 20,000 bbls, perhaps, 30,000 bbls sold, which were not reported:

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with seven and a half feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The weather yesterday was cloudy and disagreeable with a light snow falling all day, and as it melted almost as soon as it touched the ground, we would not be surprised to see more water.

There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report, excepting the St. Charles from Cincinnati. The packets arrived and departed as usual.

The St. Charles was to have left again again last night, and the Wild Duck and Barges, will clear for St. Louis, at day break this morning.

As will be seen by reference to card, a Pittsburgh & St. Louis Packet Line has been organized, and the boats embraced, therein are all first class. In order to facilitate business, and avoid confusion, and a ruinous competition, this line has been organized, and the managers contemplate, sending out two boats per week. Another very important consideration to both passengers and shippers, is that the boats in this line will go promptly as advertised. With such men, as Capts. John L. Rhodes, Wm. Dean, and James Rees as managers, this movement, will undoubtedly be successful.

The staunch and reliable Leonidas, Capt. Ed. Evans, will be the first out under the the auspices of the new organization. She takes her departure this evening without fail, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Glasgow, Capt. Andy Robinson, Jr., is the regular Saturday packet for Cincinnati and Louisville. She takes her departure this evening, positively.

The Tom Farrow Barges, Capt. Mathews, will at once commence loading for St. Louis.

The Silver Cloud No. 2, Capt. John B. Conway, is announced for New Orleans.

The latest advices from the J. N. McCullough are not very favorable. There was about thirty inches of water on the cabin floor, and she was listing to one side. The most of her furniture had been removed, and all her books, papers etc. etc. saved. It is feared, as the river has risen considerably here since the disaster, that she cannot be raised, and will be a total loss. It was the towboat Tiger, not the Tigress, that collided with the McCullough. The Tigress is now at the landing undergoing repairs.

THE NEW STEAMER ARKANSAS.—This is the name of a new steamer just completed here for Captain A. H. Shaw, late of the Minnie, and formerly of the M.S. Mepham, for the Arkansas river trade. She was constructed under the superintendance of Captain D. S. H. Gilmore, and is generally conceded to be one of the best boats of her class, in every particular, ever turned out at this port, and that is saying a good deal. The hull was built by Latta & Osborne, at Elizabeth; it is 185 feet in length, 36 feet beam, 5 feet depth of hold, and 4 inch bottom; extra fastened and extra heavy, throughout. Engines, from the well-known establishment of Robert Lea; cylinders 16 inches in diameter, 5½ feet stroke; 3 boilers 38 inches in diameaer, and 26 feet long. The cabin, which is very neat, commodious and comfortable, is the handiwork of M. F. Cassady; painting, which is also pronounced an excellent job, was done, by John Boyd. Carpets, from the well-known establishment of Oliver McClintock & Co.; upholstery by Holtzman & Wiederhold; furniture by Hammer & Dauler; sheet iron work by Kean & Keller. The mirrors, which are very handsome, were furnished by Boyd, Murray & Fawcett, Wood street. Stoves by A. Bradley & Co.; gas fitting by Cadman & Crawford: blocks, tackle, etc., etc., by Davage & Roberts. Pantry ware, queensware, cutlery, and general outfit, from the well-known house of Evans, Dallas & Gilmore, and books and stationary by W. S. Haven. The Arkansas, as we have already intimated, is in all respects, a complete success, being especially adapted for the trade which she is to enter. Captain Shaw, as well as clerk McConnell, are both old steamboatmen, and withal fine gentlemen, and under their administration, we predict for the Arkansas a very successful career. As will be seen by card, she takes her departure for New Orleans to-day without fail.

—The Maggie Hays, and towboat Antelope, arrived at St. Louis on Wednesday.

—The Sallie, en route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, was at Portland on Wednesday waiting for a rise to let her over the falls. She is too long to go through the canal.

—Quite a number of the Upper Mississippi river steamers have laid up for the winter. Freights for the South are scarce, but for the Ohio river, there is some activity. The Davenport Gazette of yesterday, says a combination of Eastern and Western capitalists is being formed to test the merits of through shipments of produce by the Mississippi and Gulf route to New York and the Old World. The Northern Union Packet Line will, next season, establish facilities for unbroken shipments of grain from St. Paul to New Orleans, and will thoroughly test the scheme inaugurated by Mr. Merry a year ago. Chicago, Liverpool, New York and St. Louis capital will be invested.

—The St. Louis Democrat, says: Since the late "onpleasantness" between Captains Cannon and Leathers, at New Orleans, these gentlemen have become reconciled, and are again the warmest of friends. The encounter occurred in the office of Messrs. Kennet & Bell, and very little claret was drawn. The misunderstanding was a very simple affair. Leathers had gone to Louisville for the Belle Lee without consulting the Cannon Clique, and returning, intimated that he wanted Saturday for the Lee in the Vicksburg trade, while they wanted to put the Governor Allen in. The Allen is now the Saturday packet, Leathers in command, and the Bart Able runs in opposition, with a good prospect of the Belle Lee going in also as a competitor.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says that the McCullough was insured in Pittsburgh offices last month, for $32,000 at six per cent., and that the Cincinnati offices refused to take her for less than nine............ We clip the following from the same paper: Capt. Alex. R. Irwin, an old steamboatman, and wharf-boat proprietor at Evansville, who has been here on a visit for two week past, and suffering from consumption, died yesterday morning at eight o'clock, at the residence of his mother-in-law, on Pike near Third street. Capt. Irwin was formerly of Pittsburgh, where, in 1845, he was engaged in the cabnet-making line, and afterward in command of a steamboat. He was some fifty-six years of age, and resided in Madison. The flags of the different steamers at the wharf were displayed at half-mast yesterday, in respect to the memory of the deceased.

—We clip the following particulars in reference to the sinking of the J. N. McCullough from the Cincinnati Gazette: About ten o'clock Tuesday night, as the J. N. McCullough was coming up from Louisville with considerable freight and a number of passengers, and when a mile above Madison, Indiana, she collided with the towboat Tiger (so said a dispatch, but we think it must have been the Tigress), which was descending the stream, with a full tow of loaded coal barges. The McCullough was struck by one of the barges, tearing the whole starboard side off for twenty or thirty feet, causing her to sink in three minutes, in seventeen feet water. The water is in her cabin, in one place two feet deep. The Melnotte, from St. Louis, came alongside shortly after, and finding the McCullough's people on the hurricane deck, took them aboard and brought them to this city last evening, along with a number of the crew. But one person—a young deck sweeper—is supposed to have been drowned. Two of the loaded barges of the towboat were sunk by the collision, and will probably be a total loss. The McCullough can not be raised at present. She had taken on over one hundred bales of hay for Pittsburgh, at Vevay, on her down trip, intending to take more on return. Capt. Geo. D. and Clerk J. Dan. Moore went to Madison, while the two mates remained aboard the sunken boat.

River and Weather.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, November 19.—River falling with six feet five inches in the canal. Weather gloomy, with occasional flurries of snow.

STEAMBOATS.

PITTSBURGH AND ST. LOUIS PACKET LINE.—Boats leave every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY, of each week, and oftener if throng of business requires. The line is to be under the direction and control of Captains John L. Rhodes, Wm. Dean, Emmitt McClure and James Rees. The object is to obtain regularity of time in departing, together with a uniform tariff of rates on freight, from Pittsburgh to St. Louis and all intermediate points. The following Captains and their boats have agreed to enter into and compose said line:

Steamer Leonidas..........Capt. Edward Evans.
Steamer Silver Cloud No. 2..........Capt. J. B. Conway.
Steamer Kate Putnam..........Capt. Geo. W. Reed.
Steamer Waunita..........Capt. Thos. Shuman.
Steamer Glendale..........Capt. John M. Hare.
Steamer Lorena..........Capt. Samuel Shuman.
Steamer Bellevernon..........Capt. John I. Darrah.
Steamer Maggie Hays..........Capt. B. C. Martin.
Steamer Armenia..........Capt. A. C. McCallum.
Steamer Messenger..........Capt. Jesse Dean.

It is understood that the day of departure shall be strictly obeyed on the part of said boats, and the hour not later than sundown. And that time of arrival at all points or landings between Pittsburgh and St. Louis shall be settled upon as will best serve the patrons of the line, to give dispatch to business and regularity, which we think will be of great advantage to our business men and the general travel on our rivers; besides save much expense to our boats, while loading under the line regulations in three days instead of six or eight, as under the old rule of loading three or four boats at one time. If our object should be properly appreciated, we will endeavor to make the line work to the advantage of all concerned.

Through receipts will be given to all points where connections can be made with other good lines.

We most earnestly solicit the assistance of our business community. Very truly yours,

JOHN L. RHODES,
WILLIAM DEAN,
EMMITT McCLURE,
JAMES REES,
Managers.

AN unanimous Electoral vote was given to General WASHINGTON, and but one was recorded, in 1820, for Mr. MONROE. We hear nothing more, however, of the proposed Democratic co-operation this year.

COLORADO holds on Monday, the 3d, a popular Convention, all parties concurring therein, to take some definite action upon the desired recognition of the Territory as a State. All local questions are now so happily arranged, that an entire concord, upon the Constitution formed in 1865, is looked for with a new election for State officers in December and an immediate removal of the application to Congress.

THE new District Attorney, a Democrat, at Philadelphia takes no part whatever in the prosecutions growing out of the late election frauds in that city. The cases are conducted entirely by Col. MANN, and with great fidelity. The Bulletin says:

> "The prosecution is being pressed with a vigor that promises the most satisfactory results. The hearing of the election officers of the Third and Fourth wards, at the Central Station, yesterday, resulted in holding some of them for trial for misdemeanor and perjury, and continuing the other cases for future hearing.

THE Indiana Democracy, at their ensuing 8th of January Convention, will hold an inquiring meeting, for the purpose of settling the future policy of the party upon some practical basis. One faction, perhaps the strongest of the party will insist upon the adoption a progressive platform, and many features identical with that presented by the friends of Judge CHASE to the New York Convention. Senator HENDRICKS is identified with this movement and its success is anticipated. The Democracy of Indiana, as of all the North and West, are weary of their unavailing fight against living principles and in behalf of issues that have had no vitality for years. They prefer to swallow a good wholesome dose of Republican doctrine, rather than to languish in an otherwise incurable doctrine.

THE FRIENDS of the proposition for another amendment of the Constitution such as to confer the suffrage irrespective of race or color, will be wise to confine the movement simply to the qualifications for participating in the Federal elections—for Congress and for Presidential electors, leaving to the several States the absolute control of the question so far as it concerns local elections. In any event a proposition of this character can at present secure the required three-fourths of the State Legislature, California, Oregon, Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky, New Jersey, Georgia, Virginia, Texas and Mississippi, ten in all, must be counted out, and the twenty-seven other States, all assenting, would not supply the needful authorization. And, of these even, Ohio must first replace Republican control in her Legislature, which is now Democratic. It is evident, then, that the proposed amendment, if submitted by Congress this winter, cannot be adopted, if at all, before the close of 1869, and that we shall need, to secure that result, the votes of at least two of the States above excepted.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

One-third of the territory of the Republic is seen to be this day smitten with a paralyzing blight. All that broad and once fruitful area of States, in which the institution of slavery once ruled, and inexorable oppression, wrung from labor its fullest measure of unpaid toil, and exacted from a fertile earth and a grateful climate the largest returns which nature could grant, is seen now to be unproductive, its population distracted by social dissensions, with one-half of their numbers, and very nearly the whole of their once capable and vigorous labor, excluded from every social privilege, every personal right, except that of supporting their own existence. The States which once yielded the most valuable tribute to the annual wealth of our national productions, return now almost nothing. Millions of once servile hands have been made free, but are made to feel bitterly that their freedom seems to have been purchased by a proscription in which their old masters apparently aim at the extinction of a race.

Sound principles, like simple truths, are neither inconsistent with each other, nor incompatible with the higher and juster aims of progressive civilization. Principles, correctly based upon justice and a right moral sense, cannot conflict with each other, and it would be as absurd as unprofitable to hold them, in any form of development, to be pernicious to the material interests of either individual or social humanity. Shall we say that the sanctity of the principle of Liberty for All Men is dependent upon the circumstances of its application? Shall we concede, that under any state of facts, or to accomplish any possible end, it may be defensible to hold human beings, not criminals or even incapable of civil duties, in an arbitrary bondage? How many men live who, with enough moral sense to make them responsible beings, can to-day stand up and maintain before Christendom, that the individual miseries, the social oppressions, the ostracism of a race, as seen now in the once slaveholding States, furnish any trace of proof that American slavery was wisely abolished? No, that accursed institution died, and none too soon, its just death, and, no matter what temporary trials or sufferings may visit the enfranchised millions—who still wait for the real day of jubilee, which shall proclaim them in every way to be men and Americans, with an enduring, quiet patience which God has permitted to be trained under centuries of oppression,—the liberty which comes to them shall be not only the right to exist, as now, but it shall be the fullest, illimitable liberty of American citizenship. The principle is as certain to be justified in its ultimate fruits as any other truth which God has made known to his creatures. The woes worked by three centuries of man's cruelty are not to be effaced in an hour, nor can the national habit of injustice which ten generations of wrongful mastery have ingrained in the moral constitutions of a slaveholding people, be eradicated wholly in a day. When we talk of educating the blacks of the South up, or their late masters down, to the altered situation, it would be well to remember that there is quite as much of moral degradation in the oppressor as in his victim, and that the Southern problem can never be rightly solved until the hearts of one race, equally with the brains of the other, have come to know all the radical blessings of a new birth.

But our business, now, is not with the white race at the South. They can and will take care of themselves, and in due time they will learn that man lives by the sweat of his own brow, and not of another's. The question, is what shall be done with the five millions of that other race, who are to be either the strength or the wretchedness of ten great States? Shall we make of them good citizens, or shall we abandon them to whatever fate may come to them from the tender mercies of their former masters? American Slavery was a great crime, but it would be hardly less a crime to give freedom to the oppressed, and after that no protection whatever in their friendless and helpless estate.

It is not enough that we have given them political rights; they must be protected, while educating themselves to understand the value and the right use of these rights. Something more is still needed without some instruction, of that general sort which every State of the Union provides, as a matter of duty, for its population, but which none of the States in question have been disposed to ordain for the benefit of this race, there would be no enlightenment for their hereditary ignorance. Their freedom would prove a most dangerous gift, and those States would inevitably, sooner or later, come to experience the most disastrous results, from the presence of a population strong enough to master them, and liable to be guided into the most perilous errors.

Making free five millions of human beings at one breath, the Nation entered upon the gravest responsibilities, completing none. It ordained the triumph of a principle, assuming at the same moment every obligation essential to its future maintenance. Giving liberty to a race, we intended a perfect gift. In the hour when so many loyal millions stood at the Great President's right hand, and ratified his declaration that the shameful blot of human slavery should be forever after wiped away from the American name, not a citizen could have been found who would have denied, or even have doubted, that the National faith was in the same hour pledged to perfect its work. Are there any of these who incline to doubt it now? Who would consent that Liberty, by whom ever it is enjoyed, in any quarter of the Republic, shall be dishonored by ignorance, or made a reproach instead of a blessing to its possessors? In that day, the nation took order at once, and as for a logical result of the emancipation; it made instant provision for the care of the millions—houseless and landless, and, in their own States, friendless as they were. The organization of the Freedmen's Bureau met the cordial approbation of all right-thinking citizens. The scope of that organization included the personal and social condition of the blacks, the enforcement of their natural rights, and their education, as far as possible, up to the standard already recognized in the legislation of nearly every other State. The action of authority in these premises was as cordially supplemented by the voluntary, and for awhile the eager, aid of popular bodies in the loyal States. In time, came new political questions, and a change in the status of the freedmen, who found their natural rights reinforced by the political rights of an equal citizenship. Instead of abating, this very justly increased the need for the existing Bureau. Nor, from that day to this, can we find, in all the facts, one solitary sound argument for dispensing with a provision the real need for which, in all its vigor unrestricted, will survive until the freedmen shall be found entirely qualified for the citizenship, and their title thereto no longer disputed by any formidable opposition. These views have been repeatedly affirmed and re-declared by the people of the controlling and always loyal States. Political partizanship has in vain assailed an institution which has been so beneficent in its operations. With every recurring appeal to its judgment, the people have reiterated their approval, of a policy which they thoroughly understand to be essential to the welfare of the South, indispensible to the honor of the Nation, and vitally important to the welfare of the millions whom we have taken under our guardianship.

Yet, it is known that, yielding, somewhat timidly, to an unreasonable clamor, the Federal authority directs the termination of this policy within another year. Still more unfortunately, we are not blind to the fact that, much as other bodies in the community have heretofore aided in the work, many of them seem to have grown cold in their zeal, and there are even fears that, should the National provision be omitted, the private contributions of the people would be found very short of accomplishing that work which needs to be done today as much as ever. Is it not our duty to continue faithful to our responsibilities in this regard, whether as a Nation, or as enlightened and Christian citizens, and to consider seriously whether we are right in perilling the welfare of those millions and the peace of the States by an untimely betrayal of a sacred trust?

We have written, more at length than we intended, in view of the meeting to be held to-morrow evening at the Third Presbyterian Church, in this city, to consider the duty of an enlightened and Christian people in those premises. The meeting will be addressed by Gen. O. O. HOWARD, the present head of the Freedmen's Bureau, a Christian soldier, whose name and career are dear as household words to all loyal hearts. Other speakers will also be present. Will not the intelligence, the patriotism, the Christian goodness, the brains and the soul of these cities, also be present?

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

"The poor ye always have with you." Expensive churches provided with all the luxuries that money can buy, are called upon to consider what they will do with their poor members, or rather how to retain them. The New York Observer gives the following plan and example for the benefit of all concerned. A large and flourishing Presbyterian church authorizes its treasurer to let pews and sittings in its spacious house of worship to all persons applying, and at such annual rent as the applicants are able to pay, themselves being the judges. And the price agreed on is known to no one but the treasurer and the party. This encourages the poor, and those not very poor, to come and take seats.

The Independent charges the Jews of New York with lack of interest in literary matters, and the higher Hebrew educational facilities, from the fact that so little has been done by them to put two institutions of learning on a secure foundation, considering the wealth which the Israelites possess. It further represents that of the thirty Jewish ministers in New York, only three are able to address their congregations in English.

Mr. Beecher in his sermon on Sunday week, spoke of the wickedness of New York in the sharpest kind of words. Judges, magistrates, business men, and even ministers got a rap from him. We hope we have none of the class of ministers he represents they have in New York, who, he says, are supposed to be the mouth piece of God, yet they grow fat in the service of the Devil by keeping silent when they should lift up their voices and expose the wickedness of corrupt men in high places.

From a communication in the Medical and Surgical Review, by a physician in Rochester, Mo., a young man in that place died last month while being immersed. After being immersed, but while still in the river, he wiped the water from his face a few times with his hands, then threw his hands and head backward, and fell backward into the water, whereupon his friends ran quickly in and took him on to the bank, after which he gasped five times and died without a struggle. No post mortem examination was allowed; but the physician thinks, as he had never had convulsions of any kind, and was perfectly healthy, that the death was due to the physical shock of the nervous system, taken in connection with the small amount of water which he may have swallowed.

Bishop Ward, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, preached on board the steamship Sacramento, on his return trip from the Pacific coast. The sermon attracted great attention from all the passengers, and was much admired. This is quite a contrast from the illiberal policy of the Cunarder line, and other companies owning steamships.

The United Brethren in Christ, of Johnstown, Pa., are erecting a fine church. The roof is on, and the building will soon be ready for occupancy. The church is estimated as being worth about twenty thousand dollars.

A minister of the "Christian" persuasion, named Summerbell, has been offended by the Evangelical Ministerial Association of Cincinnati, because in reporting a constitution for said Association, it affirms that in the unity of the Godhead the Father, Son and Holy Ghost are of equal power, glory and eternity. Mr. Summerbell denies this, and challenges the Association to debate.

In a sermon before the late General Convention of Universalists, at Providence, R. I., by Rev. Mr. Saxe, of Rochester, N. Y., declared that the Universalist denomination would be benefitted by "diminishing its quantity and improving its quality."

The revised statistics of the Methodist Episcopal Church, for the year 1868, shows a net increase of one hundred and nine thousand four hundred and seventy-nine members, instead of less than one hundred thousand, as previously stated. The increase in the value of churches and parsonages for the year will be over seven millions of dollars.

More than two hundred and fifty persons connected with the M. E. Churches, in Wheeling and vicinity, during the past three months, have professed the blessing of holiness.

In an address by Bishop Whipple, during the recent session of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in New York, in behalf of the Indians, many of whom are within the limits of his diocese, he argued that our relations with the Indians, from the beginning to the end, is such as to make every American blush for shame. For almost three centuries our nation has pursued a policy of extermination, at untold expense of blood and treasure. He thinks the Indian question must be settled on principles of Christianity, or else a war will come of which our children's children will not see the end.

It is refreshing to learn from the Bible Record, that in more than two hundred different languages, the people of the earth are permitted to read the Word of God "in their own tongue, in which they were born." This is one of the strongest evidences of the spread of Christianity.

Rev. W. Roberts, Superintendent of the Idaho Missions of the M. E. Church, thinks that notwithstanding the building of the Pacific Railroad, we are to have considerable, and perhaps prolonged trouble with the Mormons.

A first class Female College is about to be started at Chambersburg, Pa., under the care of a local presbytery. The handsome property of Col. A. K. McClure has just been bought for that purpose, at the sum of forty-five thousand dollars. One lady has given thirty thousand dollars towards the project.

Rev. Addison Jones and wife, of Santa Clara, California, have recently been excluded from the Baptist Church in that place for believing and practicing free communion. The vote was eleven to eleven, the chairman casting his vote in the affirmative, which excluded them.

Few instances of liberality are on record as in the case of the Howard Presbyterian church of San Francisco, which was liberated of a debt of nearly fifty thousand dollars by the efforts of two persons, Dr. Scudder, pastor, and Cyrus Palmer, Esq., one of the deacons, in the space of four days, during which time they waited upon the members of the congregation for their offerings.

John A. Gardner, Esq., a member of Dr. Wedekind's Lutheran church, has given a worthy example of liberality to rich men, by donating to the English Evangelical Lutheran church, of Brooklyn, New York, four beautiful building lots, twenty-five by one hundred feet each, as his jubilee gift. The only condition of the gift is, that the congregation shall erect a church within a specified number of years.

A correspondent of the Church Union argues that man is inferior to woman from the fact that God in the order of creation began with inferiors and ended with superiors; the last created to rule the creature immediately preceding it. He further affirms that all the inharmony in the universe of mind is caused by man getting out of his sphere, and attempting to dictate law to woman, a creature above his comprehension, morally, intellectually, and socially.

DESTRUCTION OF A LUNATIC ASYLUM.

Our exchanges furnish the annexed report of the destruction of the Asylum at Columbus. The unfortunate inmates who were rescued, are to be forthwith returned to their several counties, to be cared for by their friends or the local authorities:

COLUMBUS, Nov. 18.—At about 9½ o'clock to-night, as a portion of the inmates of the Lunatic Asylum were in the dancing room, it was discovered that one of the dormitories in the eastern wing of the building, devoted to female patients, was on fire. The alarm was immediately sounded, but before the engines reached the place the fire was under good headway. Measures were immediately taken to remove the patients from the burning rooms. Then a terrible scene began.

All efforts to induce the patients to leave their rooms proved unavailing, and the attendants and citizens were obliged to rush in and tear them from the terrible fate that awaited them. The scene was horrible. The confusion, smoke and heat increased their madness, and they raved and struggled to free themselves. As fast as rescued they were taken to the dancing hall, where warm clothing was given to many who were almost naked. A police force was in attendance to take charge of the most violent ones. It is now impossible to tell how many perished, but it is certain that seven were suffocated.

Dr. Peck and his assistants, male and female, acted well, being unusually cool and sensible in this most trying emergency. Mr. Louis Seibert, of this city, also acted the hero, going into the burning rooms, time after time, and removing many patients, until he fainted and is now in a critical condition. S. S. Rickley was also somewhat injured by the heat.

At this hour, midnight, the fire is gaining ground, and it is feared the building will be entirely consumed. Conveyances are now arriving to remove the patients to some other portion of the city. The light of the burning building attracted thousands to the place.

LATER.—The fire is gaining ground, and it now seems impossible to save the building. The male patients who occupy the western wing, who have heretofore been comparatively quiet, are now growing frantic as the fire approaches them; but if human aid can help them, they will all be saved. It is supposed the fire originated from a defective flue in one of the sleeping-rooms.

LATEST, November 19, 1 A. M.—The entire building is now one sheet of flame, and all hopes of saving any portion of it are given up. All of the patients in the western wing were rescued with one exception, a middle aged man who was found suffocated in one of the lower rooms. Much of the furniture, bedding, &c., is saved, and is being removed to various portions of the city as fast as possible.

A heavy snow is falling, that only adds to the desolation of the scene. I understand that about three hundred and fifty inmates were confined at the breaking out of the fire, and to all who are familiar with the building, it must seem almost incredible that so few perished.

Opinions of the Press.

[From the Philadelphia City Item.]

The West presses Moorhead vigorously. The arguments used in his favor are strong. The present Senator, Gen. Cameron, is from the East. The Governor is from the East. The Speaker of the House will be from the East.

These are points well taken. But the strongest remains to be stated. General Moorhead's record is enviable—he is honest, popular;—a rigid protectionist—no one is better acquainted with the history, the resources, the wants of the State; our railroads, canals, public and private institutions, our public men, our manufacturers, shippers, merchants, are all well known to him; for ten years in Congress he was found industrious, ready, capable, influential, and this long experience admirably fits him for the Senate. All this, it must be admitted, makes the case of Moorhead a strong one. But, there are other considerations—his integrity is above suspicion; no man stands higher, in or out of his party; in public, as in private, he has been honorable and useful. Just in the prime of life, his activity is equal to every demand likely to be made upon it. Let us have a publicist for Senator—a man of high character, who will be useful to the State, and respected by the whole country.

The Gubernatorial question will plunge us into another excitement, we suppose, as soon as the Senatorship is disposed of. We shall do our share of talking when the time comes.

[From the Bedford Inquirer.]

We think the Sixteenth District has a man second to none in the State for eminent ability and fitness for the position. We refer to Hon. Edward McPherson, of Gettysbarg. A ripe scholar, distinguished for talent and ability, intimately acquainted with all the machinery of our Government, having served with distinction in the lower House, thoroughly devoted to the interests of his native State, and intimately acquainted therewith, he is pre-eminently qualified to fill the high and responsible position of United States Senator, with honor to himself and credit to his State.

[From the Crawford Journal.]

Why cannot the Legislature for once go outside of the usual round of applicants and elect some man for his worth? Hon. Edwin M. Stanton is looked upon by the whole country as one of the ablest and foremost Republicans in the State. If he should be elected it would not only be an honor to the State but to the whole nation. With two such able men in the Senate as Stanton and Cameron, Pennsylvania would be a power in the councils of the nation.

[From the Crawford Journal.]

As an Executive, Governor Geary possesses rare abilities. Wherever and whenever he has been called upon to act in an executive capacity he has always discharged his duties with fidelity and prudence. During his present term of office there have been no exciting occasions to call forth any great exhibition of his peculiar merits as a Governor, and some might think from that, that he does not excel in executive ability, but such is not the fact. He has given the closest attention to the duties of his office; vetoed many bills which he considered unjust or unnecessary, and conducted the affairs of our State in an economical manner. Whenever the people get hold of an able and honest public servant it is best to hold on to him, and believing Governor Geary to be such a one, we earnestly recommend his re-nomination by the Republican party for the office of Governor of this Commonwealth.

[From the Raftsman's (Clearfield) Journal.]

The Harrisburg State Guard declares for the re-nomination of Governor John W. Geary, and in so doing justly reflects the prevailing judgment of the Republican party in favor of a brave and faithful public servant.

[From the Venango Republican.]

We expect before long to find the entire Republican press of Western Pennsylvania coming out for Thos. M. Marshall and for our rights.

IS SICKNESS AVOIDABLE?

Thousands toss on sick-beds to-day who might have been well and hearty, had they taken due precautions for the preservation of that most precious of earthly blessings, a sound mind in a sound body. Sickness, to a greater extent than most people suppose, is avoidable. When the body is languid, the spirits depressed, and the nervous system unnaturally sensitive, it should be taken for granted that mischief is brewing. These hints and warnings, vouchsafed as such by a kind Providence, ought not to be disregarded. If they are slighted, as is too generally the case, the next thing may be a fever, a severe billious attack, or some other form of acute disease. They indicate as clearly as if the intimation were given in articulate language, that the animal functions are disordered, and the system debilitated. Under these circumstances, the ONLY THING TO BE DONE IS TO REGULATE AND RESTORE, and the BEST REGULATING AND RESTORATIVE PREPARATION EVER USED FOR THE PREVENTION OF SICKNESS IS HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. In this way, billious remittent fever, chills and fever, spasms, nervous paroxysms, violent attacks of indigestion, and all the ordinary epidemics, may almost certainly be averted. They are usually preceded by the symptoms described, and surely it is wisdom to forestall them by resorting to an antidote at once harmless, agreeable and invigorating. Most assuredly, it will soon dissipate the unpleasant feelings referred to; which, of course, is desirable, even if they were not likely to lead to something worse. The close of the Fall is usually accompanied by unhealthy fogs and violent atmospheric changes, and it is therefore a season when invigoration is particularly needed.

LET ANY ONE TRY A FEW BOTTLES OF DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE AND IT WILL ESTABLISH ITS MERITS BEYOND CONTROVERSY.

We feel, in whatever we say in its behalf, that we are conferring a benefit upon thousands of people who would be benefitted by its use. Take any large audience or gathering of people, pay attention for a moment, and see if one out of every ten is not afflicted with a cough. There is no cough without some difficulty of the throat or lungs—trifling it may be at the outset, but gradually growing more and more fearful, until the constitution, at last, is made to succumb to its ravages; and what would have yielded in the beginning to a few doses of medicine has become a fearful lesion, involving life itself. No one can be too careful at this season of the year, to the first premonitors of pulmonary disease, and when a remedy like the one we have named, is within the means of all, the salutary advice which we have given should not be disregarded. Sold at the great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street.

A MIRACULOUS CURE

OF A

DEAF AND DUMB GIRL,

An Inmate of the German Orphan Asylum of Troy Hill.

STATEMENT OF OFFICERS OF THAT INSTITUTE.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,

PITTSBURGH, Pa., November 13, 1868.

Personally appeared before me, Horace S. Snowden, a Public Notary, in and for Allegheny county, Pa., Peter Gelchsheimer, President, and Nicholas Schneider, Vice President, J. Weister, Treasurer, Jacob Dietz, Secretary, and Joseph Lang, a Committee of the German Orphan Asylum, each of whom being by me duly sworn according to law, deposed and said that Josephine Reichard, aged fifteen, an inmate in the German Orphan Asylum, Troy Hill, had been deaf and dumb from her infancy. She has lately been operated upon by Dr. Lighthill, 296 Penn street, for the cure of her deafness, which resulted in marked success. She can now hear and distinguish the human voice sufficiently to imitate it, and consequently she speaks already a few words and is daily improving both in hearing and speech. She is still under the Doctor's care, who hopes to accomplish a complete cure in time.

Well Attested Cure of Catarrh.

DR. A. P. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIR—Your treatment in the cure of my Catarrh has had the desired effect, and resulted in permanent good to me, although my case has frequently been pronounced incurable, and I had exhausted all other modes of treatment, without the least benefit. My case was so chronic and troublesome, that by giving a few of the symptoms the value of your treatment can be more readily estimated. For years I had been afflicted with a constant cold in the head, obstructing my breathing so as to necessitate me to keep my mouth open during sleep; latterly the discharges became solidified and impacted in my nose to such an extent that it required the greatest exertion to expel them. Sometimes these hardened lumps would get in my throat causing me to hawk and scrape even by the hour to relieve myself. My breath was offensive; my memory became impaired. Dizziness and light headiness made their appearance, and of late symptoms of paralysis stepped in, and when I placed myself under your care one side of my face was badly affected by this dread disease. My general health suffered alike, there was a constant tired, drowsy and debilitated feeling, with no energy to move or act; I felt as tired on rising in the morning as I did on going to my bed, my appetite was capricious and my disposition morose. In that condition I placed myself under your care, and am happy to state that all those disagreeable and dangerous symptoms have entirely left me, and I once more enjoy the benefits of good health.

By giving this publicity you will benefit others similarly affected and oblige me. Yours truly,

JAMES SOMMERVILLE.
Brookville, Jefferson county.

I have known Mr. James Sommerville, from Brookville, Jefferson county, for many years, and can testify to his statement as one of truth and veracity.

AMERICAN AND ORIGINAL.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1869.

The Third Volume and SECOND YEAR of Lippincott's Magazine of Literature, Science and Education will commence with the number for January, 1869; and it is the intention of the publishers that the Magazine shall not only maintain the

which it has acquired during the first year of its publication, but that it shall be indeed still more valuable, attractive and entertaining.

The publishers, encouraged by the GREAT SUCCESS AND MARKED APPROBATION which the Magazine has already gained, have made liberal arrangements for the future. Their object will continue to be, to present to the American public a Monthly Magazine of the thoroughly National in its tone, and treating the questions of the day in a philosophical and statesmanlike manner. Each number will contain a large proportion of LIGHT READING, together with articles of a more thoughtful class.

The January number will contain the opening chapters of a

BRILLIANT AND ORIGINAL AMERICAN NOVEL,

written expressly for this Magazine, which will be entitled

BEYOND THE BREAKERS,

A STORY OF THE PRESENT DAY.

SHORT ORIGINAL TALES,

and Sketches by the best authors, will appear in each Number, together with SKETCHES OF TRAVEL, HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHY; ESSAYS; PAPERS OF WIT AND HUMOR; ARTICLES ON POPULAR SCIENCE; FINANCE AND EDUCATION; POETRY AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Our Monthly Gossip and Literature of the Day will add variety and interest to each number.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE, and secure the opening chapters of the new and entertaining Serial Novel.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, November 20, 1868.

Gold opened weak, in anticipation of the three millions to be sold next week at the rate of half a million a day, but towards the close of the day, the market became strong at 134¾ to 134⅞; it seems, however, as if these sales at that figure were only effected for the purpose of running up the price of stocks to-morrow so as to create a general demand for either gold or stocks, and then to sell out.

Bonds are very strong, under an easy money market and the firmness of gold, but the investment demand for them is light. The sale of gold by the Treasury next week may influence the price of bonds so much that the money market may naturally become tight, and the power to purchase or carry be limited.

Stocks were quiet to-day, and the bulls and bears are planing new schemes by which they can steal money out of the peoples' pockets. Erie fluctuated between 41 and 43½, and closed quiet and weak. Fort Wayne, Rock Island, Cleveland, Reading, Chicago & Northwestern are all stronger, and unless money becomes scarcer and call loans get up to 7 and 8 per cent., much higher prices are predicted.

Business is dull here and money exceedingly hard to get.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, November 20, 1868.

CATTLE.

There has been a fair volume of business in Cattle, comparatively speaking, since the date of our last report, Wednesday evening, the sales being up to the usual average, reaching seven hundred and sixty head, while prices are without quotable change. It is true, we have higher prices reported than we had in our last report, but this will be understood when we state that the difference was in consequence of the quality of stock. As will be seen by the report of sales, prices ranged all the the way from 4¼ to 7⅛—one bunch of bulls at 2,80. The market was very dull to-day, there being but very few buyers in attendance, and there was but little done, though, this is usually the case on Friday, most of the shippers going east on Thursday afternoon and evening. The following sales are reported:

Smith & Blue to J. Roth 15 head, weighing 18,975, at $6 25; same to P. Klemen 38, weighing 39,350, at 7 55; Holmes, L. & Co. to Black 10, weighing 10,825, at 5 25; same to same 34, weighing 35,565, at 5 00; same to Landis 17, weighing 15,625, at 4 25; same to same 3, weighing 2,665, at 4 50; same to P. Klemen 12, weighing 13,200, at 5 00; same to Wormser 51, weighing 49,275, at 5 25; same to Casterline 27, weighing 21,600, at 2 80; same to Longnecker 22, weighing 17,000, at 4 00; Friend to Miller 15, weighing 20,475, at 7 50; Phillips to Youngland 18, weighing 16,950, at 5 10; Friend to Aull 21, weighing 18,300, at 4 25; Bars to Miller & Dale 40, weighing 34,800, at 4 40; Williamson to Frank 22, weighing 19,075, at 4 50; Poling to Frank 17, weighing 15,000, at 4 50; Campbell to Kennedy 42, weighing 42,025, at ——; Munhall to Klemen 83, weighing 94,250, at 6 50; Ross to L. Miller 22, weighing 18,400, at 3 75; McCurdy to Aull & Co 15, weighing 13,125, at 4 50; Heming to Miller 18, weighing 20,300, at 6 80; McFadden to Holtensteine 20, weighing 18,025, at 4 25; Henderson to McClane 38, weighing 33,375, at 3 75; Stimmell to H. Miller 33, weighing 43,675, at 7 12; Hedges & Taylor to Aull 6, weighing 6,450, at 4 50; same to Aull 9, weighing 10,075, at 6 00; same to Munhall 20, weighing 19,550, at 5 25; same to Munhall 20, weighing 19,625, at 5 25; same to Klemen 13, weighing 19,250, at 6 25. T. B. Hendson sold 54 head of good Kentucky steers, averaging 1,200 pounds, to P. Klemen at $71 per head.

HOGS.

The Hog market was decidedly offish today, which was owing to increased arrivals and unfavorable reports from the east. Compared with last week, prices have declined a full cent, and the general impression among dealers seemed to be that the bottom had not been touched. The demand in this market is almost entirely for shipment, and notwithstanding the packing season is at hand, packers, here, will not buy a single hog at anything like present prices. Such Hogs as are bought for New York, sold to-day at 6,50 to 7, and good to prime Philadelphia Hogs at 7,50 to 7,75—extra might have brought 8

SHEEP.

The Sheep market has ruled considerable better this week, under the influence of light arrivals, and compared with last week, prices are higher. We now quote at 3 to 5c, gross, for fair to extra; there was but one drove sold at ths outside quotation, averaging between 115 to 118 pounds. There was another drove sold at 4⅝, averaging 95. The receipts, as a general thing, are of the scalawag order, and, as a consequence, the great proportion of the sales were at low figures.

W. Buchanan to J. N. Pidcock 113 head, weighing 9,700, at $3,25; same to same 90, weighing 7,925, at 2,25; S. Johnson to same 230, weighing 17,390, at 3,20; S. Hawk to same 116, weighing 8,675, at 3,20; J. PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, November 27, 1868.

The market has undergone but little change since last week, and is devoid of any or important characteristics worthy of special notice. Stocks, especially of eastern irons, continue light, though the demand is by no means urgent, buyers, generally, seem inclined to carry just as little as possible. Prices, compared with last week, have undergone no quotable change. The sales reported were as follows:

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE LAKE SUPERIOR IRON REGION.

NUMBER THREE.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

In our last we gave some statistics of iron mining, cost of transportation to a foreign market, etc. We now propose to furnish some information regarding the manufacture of pig iron in Marquette county.

The metallurgic traditions and customs of New England seem to predominate; the iron workers have migrated westward, on the line of their own parallel of latitude. Pennsylvania seems to have comparatively few representatives either among those who furnish capital, or those who furnish skill. The furnaces are mostly charcoal, driven in some cases by water, which is abundant, and in most cases by steam—taking the gas from the furnace for fuel. The blast is driven in at two pounds pressure per inch, and at a temperature of 620 degrees Fahrenheit. The charcoal is made almost entirely in kilns *25 to 30 feet in diameter, and 25 to 30 feet high, shaped like a straw bee-hive, and having a capacity of 30 to 40 cords, which is reduced to charcoal in about seventeen days. About 25 of these kilns are required for each furnace. The kilns are usually scattered through the forest, skirting a railroad, in the vicinity of the heavy timber. Maple, birch, hemlock and pine are the principal wood charred, 2½ cords producing 100 bushels. Charcoal is delivered at the furnaces at about 11c per bushel.

The present average cost of making Lake Superior Charcoal Pig Iron is about $30 per ton, and is expended nearly as follows:

Charcoal	$15
Furnace labor	4
Repairs, &c	2
Royalty, or stumpage	1
Ore	8
Total	$30

From this it will be seen how important an element in the manufacture of Pig Iron fuel is; one-half of the entire cost. The net profits on Lake Superior Pig Iron, from the beginning of the manufacture to the present time, have varied from $6 to over $30, and are now about $15 per ton. Assuming 13 tons per day for 300 days per year, as the average product for one furnace, and we have an annual profit of $58,500—or, for the fourteen furnaces of the district, annually, a profit of $819,000.

The folowing is a list of the furnaces, with their location:

Pioneer, at Negaunee	2	stacks.
Collinsville, at Collinsville	1	"
Bancroft, at Forestville	1	"
Northern, at Chocolay	1	"
Morgan, at Morgan	1	"
Greenwood, at Greenwood	1	"
Michigan, at Clarksburg	1	"
Jackson, at Escanaba	1	"
Champion, at Michigammi	1	"
Cliffs, at Cliff co	1	"
Marquette, at Marquette	1	"
Schoolcraft, at Munising	1	"
Deer Lake, at Deer Lake	1	"
Total	14	"

Estimating one hundred and fifty bushels of charcoal for smelting each ton of pig iron, and forty thousand tons of iron as an average yield per annum, will give an annual consumption of six million bushels of charcoal per annum, or about the product of about one thousand acres of timber, burned up by these furnaces every year.

THE FUEL QUESTION.

We know that scores of furnaces in our own region have gone out of blast, through the wastage of timber suitable for charcoal, and this, too, in a region of hard wood and heavy timber. Charcoal being too bulky for transportation by rail, the time required to stop all these Lake Superior charcoal furnaces can be mathematically demonstrated; it is a question of but a few years, and the erection of these furnaces, with their necessary machinery, in this distant region, is no small matter. When wood becomes scarce and charcoal advances in price to, say fifteen cents per bushel, what then?

Then we will find Youghiogheny coke taken from Pittsburgh to Escanaba, as a return cargo, by the vessels engaged in the iron ore trade—provided our iron and coal interests are sufficiently enterprising to furnish the required facilities. An inland transportation of some three hundred miles by rail will not tend to stimulate this interchange of ore and coal. It costs as much to-day to freight a ton of iron ore from Cleveland to Pittsburgh as the thousand miles of transportation by lake from Escanaba to Cleveland. We annex the actual cost of transportation, by the different routes of conveyance, as determined by McAlpine:

By Lake	2	mills	per ton	per	mile.
By River	3	"	"	"
By Canal	5	"	"	"
By Railroad	14	"	"	"

Now, if Pittsburgh desires to cultivate Marquette county, as a market for her coal and coke, and to obtain a share of the product of these mines, our capital must provide cheaper transportation from the Lakes. Mr. Roberts' estimate of the cost of the enlargement of the Erie Canal was $2,000,000 in round numbers. In conversation with one of our most enterprising manufacturers, recently, he stated that he would take stock in such an enterprise to the amount of $20,000, and consider himself the gainer, when the enlargement was completed, even if his stock was then entirely lost, through the economy in his freights. With such a cheap channel of communication as this enlarged canal from Erie to Rochester, and the Ohio slackwater from thence to our Iron City, we should be able to command the trade of the Northwest. Without some such cheap route, for heavy freights, such as coal, iron ore, heavy machinery and castings, our heavy trade will be lost to us. Every manufacturer and merchant can estimate for himself the probable advantages to himself, of being able to ship to Chicago at about three dollars per ton, and to all Lake ports in proportion.

Are we not already building up formidable rivals in the iron trade, for lack of enterprise in this direction? We have no data later than 1864; in that year we find that of 52 furnaces, consuming 241,500 tons of Lake Superior iron ore, there were but 7 of the number in Pittsburgh, using, with 25 rolling mills, 50,000 tons; while in the Shenango Valley there were 10 furnaces, using 56,000 tons; in the Mahoning Valley 12 furnaces, using 60,000 tons; in Buffalo 4 furnaces, using 28,000 tons, and in Cleveland and vicinity 3 furnaces, using 7,500 tons. Since that date there has been a large increase in the same direction. At Alliance, Hunterville, Toledo, Cleveland and other points in Ohio; Detroit, Michigan; Chicago, Illinois; Brazil, Indiana—and at how many other points all through the West, we find rolling mills springing up. Just now we hear of late discoveries of the best block coal and pure iron ore in Green county, Indiana. So that, save to points which we can reach by river, we are rapidly being cut off from our hitherto chief boast—our iron trade. Let our mining and manufacturing interests combine and estimate what they could save in about two years, had they a ship canal to the Lakes with a capacity for boats of, say, 350 tons burden, and unless we are greatly mistaken, you will find the figures ample to defray the cost of the improvement; and if so, are not our miners and manufacturers ready to advance their estimated savings on freight for a year or two, to aid in an improvement of such incalculable value to those interests?

Had we any eloquence, we should become eloquent in arguing this subject, as of vital importance to our city; it is of no less importance to the entire valley through which it would pass; to our own beautiful port of Erie, where it would debouch upon the great inland seas of the North and West. The most casual reader of the facts already furnished, regarding the extent and importance of the Lake Superior Iron interest, and the prospective demand for our own bituminous coal, will estimate for himself, the possibilities of the future, when these twin agents of civilization are united by cheap water communication. R.

—*In speaking of these kilns in our first paper, your compositor made us say they were lined with "five feet brick;" we had written fire brick.

WORK FOR WOMAN.

Probably our countrywomen talk more about the right to enter all departments of industry than do their sisters in any other part of the world. In the older countries the complaint, if any, would be, that women are compelled to do more than their share of labor. In Britain, for example, outside of Liverpool and London, the hotels are commonly kept by women. A woman assigns quarters to guests; a woman attends to the accounts; a woman presides at the bar. The men are reduced to the positions of porters and waiters. In Britain, and in France and Italy, women are guards along the track of the railroads. On the continent generally, the traveler finds women conducting a large share of the business. In Belgium, and France, and Germany, and Northern Italy, the signs over the manufactories prove that the fair sex are not always subordinates. "Sisters ——" conduct one of the largest lace manufactories in Brussels. "Widow ——" is a leading merchant. At Lyons one of the chief banking houses is that of "Widow Guerin & Sons," although the head of the firm is not found attending to the details of money at the office. In Peris, the jewelry stores are commonly managed by women; and many of the smaller manufactories of various articles seem to be entirely conducted by them. Near the Tuilleries is a sign indicating that a store is carried on by "Miss —— and the sisters of her mother." At Cologne, the leading manufacturer of the famous water is Miss Martin, a nun. At Milan, women compete with men in merchandise and trade on the principal streets, and in the finest apartments of the new arcade. Throughout Switzerland, women maintain their full share of many of the industries, manufacturing and agricultural. On the wharf at Havre, a railroad extension is in progress, and women, side by side with men, are seen shoveling earth, and loading and unloading carts.

In this country, practically, all vocations are already open to women. They need not wait for the consent of anybody. They can do any work for which they are qualified, and which offers itself. No law forbids, and prejudice itself has ceased to protest above a whisper. No argument is needed to open any vocation to them. Only example is requisite. The place once well occupied by a woman, is free to any one of her sex forever afterwards. Unless it be the law, no profession in this country, and no vocation within their physical strength, fails even now to afford instances of women admitted to compete with men on their own ground. The right of woman to labor, according to her gifts and capacities, with pen and pencil, with voice or hand, in shop or factory, or field or forum, can hardly be accounted as longer in dispute.—Utica Herald.

The Art of Eloquence.

Mr. Bright, in reply to an address by the Corporation of Edinburgh, said:

"In the resolution of the town council, out of which the proceedings of the day have sprung, there are phrases which almost make me blush, and to which I find it difficult to refer. I am there described as an orator and a statesman. Now, more than thirty years ago, when I was very young indeed, in my beginning to think about public affairs, in reading the prose writings of John Milton I found a passage which fixed itself in my mind, and which time has never been able to remove. He says, "Yet true eloquence I find to be none but the serious and hearty love of truth," and I have endeavoured so far as I have had the opportunity of speaking in public, to abide by that opinion. So far as I am able to examine myself during the thirty years that I have been permitted to speak at meetings of my countrymen, I am not conscious that I have ever used an argument which I did not believe to be sound, or have stated anything as a fact which I did not believe to be true. I have endeavored, further, always to abstain from speaking on subjects which I had not examined and well considered, and perhaps it is because I endeavored to attend to these rules that what I have said has met with some acceptance, and perhaps in some quarters has been influential in the country."

The first passenger train passed over the Hocking Valley Railroad, from Columbus to Lancaster on the 6th inst. The road is said to be in splendid condition, about half ballasted, and for a road at such a stage of completion pronounced by the party the best they had ever seen.

A FARM OF 30 ACRES, on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, 27 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa. The improvements are a fine two-story brick house, with ten large rooms and hall. A large frame bank barn, with No. 1 stabling, and all other outbuildings in complete order. One of the best of orchards, of all kinds of fruit. The soil is rich new bottom. This property adjoins the village of Buena Vista, and has the advantage of churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and will be sold at the low price of $15,000. The improvements alone are worth at least all that is asked for the property, to say nothing about the land, which is worth for garden purposes at least $10,000. For full particulars call at my office, or WILLIAM A. BELL, Esq., on the premises.

ALSO, A FARM OF 40 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, about 18 miles from the city. The improvements are a new stone dwelling, with eight rooms; a good barn and other outbuildings. This property is offered at a very low price. Call and secure yourself a good bargain.

ALSO, A FARM OF 120 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 17½ miles from the city, on the Connellsville Railroad, opposite Elrod's Station, within 20 minutes' walk of the Station. The improvements are a frame house containing four rooms and kitchen, with a good cellar underneath; very good barn and other outbuildings. A No. 1 orchard, containing about 200 fruit bearing trees, all in good condition. 90 acres cleared land, the residue in good timber, underlaid with 23 acres of coal.

ALSO, A TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSE adjoining the Borough of Elizabeth, Allegheny county, Pa., containing 4 roams and kitchen. Lot 60 feet front by 126 back to an alley. A good Stable, wash house, bake-oven and other outbuildings. I am authorized to sell it at the low price of $1,800, on good terms.

ALSO, In the Borough of Elizabeth, a good two-story BRICK HOUSE, containing 4 rooms. Lot 120 feet square. Will be sold at the exceedingly low price of $2,500, on easy terms.

ALSO, My Farm, known by the name of "Willow Banks," situated on the Connellsville Railroad, 17 miles from the city, containing 79 ACRES, all in good condition. The improvements are a No 1 brick house, two stories high, newly painted, containing six rooms, two halls running full length of the house. The house is situated on a beautiful knoll, is surrounded by fruit trees, shrubbery, vines and flowers, with a graded avenue running to the Yough. River. Also, a large frame bank barn, smoke house, wash house, coal house, bake-oven and other outbuildings, and a never-failing well of water. Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connexion with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. Very convenient to schools, churches, stores and blacksmith shop.

ALSO, A FARM OF 158 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 31 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the Connellsville Railroad, at Suter Station. The improvements are a common log house, a good frame barn, with stabling for ten horses; a corn crib and wagon shed; good orchard of fruit trees; fencing very good. 120 acres cleared, the residue in heavy timber land. This farm is valuable—first, for its excellent soil; secondly, its timber; and thirdly, it contains more limestone than any other farm in Pennsylvania, all accessible. The lower vein of limestone is 40 feet thick; several other veins ranging from 3½ to 6 ft. in thickness, lie under the whole farm. For particulars enquire of ELI SUTER, Esq., at Suter Station, or at my office.

ALSO, 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard: one hundred and twenty acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered, and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm.

ALSO, A beautifully situated tract of 60 ACRES of valuable land, under good fencing, situated in McCandless township, Allegheny county, Pa., on a township road, 7 measured miles from the Market House, Allegheny City. This tract is well adapted for a garden or dairy farm, being convenient and of easy access to either city, and near enough to the line of the Mahoning Railroad to make it very desirable for country seats, for persons doing business in the city.

ALSO, The best farm in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., 4 miles from Western Penna. R. R. at Livermore Station, containing 300 ACRES—225 acres cleared and under No. 1 fencing, as well as fine farming condition; the balance in good white oak timber. The improvements are 2 two-story frame houses, nearly new, of eight rooms each and finished basements and attics; a large bank barn 50 by 80 feet, a two-story spring house and other necessary outbuildings, all in good order; 5 acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruits; 4 feet vein of coal (now open,) underlying the whole tract, and limestone in abundance, with plenty of springs of never-failing water. Taken all together—houses, fencing, soil, nice lying surface, public highway, churches, schools, mills, &c.,—I know of no more inviting and desirable tract of land in Western Pennsylvania.

ALSO, FARM AND MILLS. A small tract of 60 ACRES of very valuable land in Derry township Westmoreland county, Pa.; well fenced and in a high state of cultivation, with new frame dwelling, and other outbuildings; a new grist and saw mill complete, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the needed fixtures, in good order, and a young orchard of choice fruits; lane is all underlaid with a six foot vein of coal, now opened and worked, at the back of the mill, and limestone in abundance. Call soon and secure a good bargain.

ALSO, FARM OF 160 ACRES, situated immediately upon the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Blairsville Intersection, 54 miles east of the city. The improvements are a two-story stone house of 8 rooms, a No. 1 barn, 45 by 65 feet, the best of stabling and other outbuildings. The land lies well, is well fenced, is in good farming order, and will be sold very cheap if applied for soon.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be, and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out of the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. K. says that he has known the most distressing and harassing coughs, whose vibrations would threaten to shake the whole constitution to pieces, removed in the course of a few days In long standing cases of consumption, or of other sometimes fatal, but always troublesome and annoying maladies, known as catarrh, chronic bronchitis, trachitis or pharyngitis, it is a wonderful alleviating medicine in the former and a sure cure in he latter disease.

DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE IS ENRICHED BY SOME OF THE MOST VALUABLE PLANTS AND HERBS KNOWN TO BE USEFUL AND CURATIVE IN ALL DETERIORATED STATES OF THE HUMAN BLOOD, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glanular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, hopelessly incurable and so most surely fatal.

Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at

Dr. Keyser's Great Medicine Store,

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The celebrated Peak Family will be in Pittsburgh December 2d.

Personal.—T. A. M'Clelland, Esq., of Philadelphia, formerly of this city, the founder of the great Masonic Hall auction emporium of H. B. Smithson & Co., is in the city.

Rare Chance to Buy Real Estate.—On Our fifth page will be found an advertisement of an elegant residence for sale. This property can be bought very low. For particulars, see advertisement.

George Alfred Townsend will lecture at the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association, on Tuesday evening next, on the "Pennsylvania Dutch." There will be no reserved seats.

Sneak Thieves About. — Some sneak thieves stole from the St. Charles Hotel yesterday morning a black overcoat, of beaver cloth, and one of light grey colored material. The thieves escaped and left no clue which might lead to their detection.

Mr. John W. Pittock, (who, by the way, is opposite the Postoffice,) has sent us a batch of ritualistic pamphlets, consisting of lectures, sermons, tracts and the Church Record, a monthly paper of high literary character. Mr. Pittock keeps them all for sale.

The meeting in behalf of the freedmen, to be held to-morrow evening, in the Third Presbyterian Church, will be addressed by Gen. O. O. Howard, who is to be in our city, and who will be the guest of George Woods, L. L. D., President of the University.

Land Slide.—A land slide of considerable magnitude occurred on Thursday evening on the Panhandle Railroad, near Cork's Run. The trains were delayed for some time, but the track is now clear and all of them are running regular again. No damage further than that caused by the delay was done.

The success which has attended Dr. Lighthill, the eminent physician, has been such as to inspire the community with confidence in his ability. On our fifth page, to-day, we record the miraculous cure of a deaf and dumb girl, an inmate of the German Orphan Asylum, which is amply substantiated by sworn evidence.

Mr. Controller Steel, announces that in accordance with the provision of the "Water Extension Loan," the sum of Five Thousand Dollars, has been placed in the Sinking Fund in accordance with the provision of Section Fourth of the act, to be applied to the payment of such Bonds as may be presented on the first of December next.

Oil Lamps.—The finest as well as largest assortment of oil lamps from which to select will be found at the old established and popular house of G. Porzel, No. 90 Smithfield street. All of the latest styles of lamps and shades in great variety, together with the best quality of non explosive oil, constantly kept on hand at most reasonable prices.

St. James Church.—Anniversary Services of the Consecration of St. James Church, corner of Penn and Mechanic streets, will be held on Sunday next, November 22nd. Services in the morning. Bishop Lee, delegate to the late General Convention of the Prodestant Episcopal Church. In the evening Bishop Kerfoot will preach. Collections for the Sunday School.

Horse Stolen.—On Thursday evening a valuable horse was stolen from the stable of Mr. W. Donnell, at Tarentum. The animal was of a light bay color, with a thin black man and tail, and white feet. The thief also carried off a saddle and bridle with the horse. The police have been notified of the theft, and a reward of twenty dollars is offered for the arrest of the depredator or the recovery of the horse.

Gave Ball.—A hearing was had before Alderman McMasters yesterday, in the case of David Lash, a prominent resident of Washington county, who was charged with seduction and fornication and bastardy, on oath of one of his neighbors, the particulars of which we gave at the time. After the examination of one or two of the witnesses, the defendant waived a hearing, and gave bail for Court in the sum of four thousand dollars.

An Intruder.—Thomas Jordan made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, against Melville Kelley for surety of the peace. Jordan resides at Braddock's Fields, and he alleges that Kelley came to his house on Thursday evening and broke the door in, smashed some of the windows and concluded the performance by swearing that he would never rest satisfied until the house was burned down. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Alleged False Pretense.—John Eberly made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters, against Joseph Eberly for false pretenses. The alleged offence consists in obtaining boarding to the amount of $64 by representing he had money due him through the Court, with which he would pay the bill as soon as received. These representations, the prosecutor alleges, are false, and hence the suit. The accused was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

Pocketbook Lost.—A gentleman named Shields, while in attendance at Mark Twain's lecture on Thursday evening, lost his pocketbook containing $20. One supposition is that the gentleman, while coming out of the Academy, commenced laughing at the remembrance of one of Twain's jokes, and was so shaken as to cause his pocketbook to fall out on the floor, where it soon became destroyed, contents and all under the feet of the immense throng which crowded the passage ways leading from the building. It might be so.

At John Megraw's popular tobacco house, No. 45 Hand street, the reader will find a magnificent assortment of the finest Havana, Cuba and home produced cigars to be obtained anywhere and at most reasonable prices. His stock of smoking tobacco, chewing tobacco, plug and solace, meerschaum pipes, mouth pieces, tobacco pouches, snuff and snuff boxes, is large, varied and of first quality. Wholesale and retail dealers should favor this house with a purchasing visit, as no where else can they obtain better advantages.

Opened an Office.—Our friend Colonel W. B. Neeper, Alderman and ex-officio Justice of the Peace of the Fifth (old Tenth) ward has opened an office at No. 89 Fifth avenue, opposite GAZETTE building, where he will attend to his official duties. Special attention will be given to conveyancing, collecting and drawing up of bonds, mortgages, and other legal documents. We bespeak for Colonel Neeper a full share of public patronage, knowing him to be capable and painstaking, and in every respect worthy the confidence of the community.

Sudden Death.—Mrs. Mary McGee, residing at the corner of High and Grant streets, died suddenly on Wednesday afternoon last. The lady had been afflicted with a tumor for a number of years. On the morning of the day of her death she submitted to a surgical operation upon the tumor, which promised relief. After the operation she began to get worse and died between one and two o'clock in the afternoon. On the day before the operation was performed she was in her usual health, but it seemed that her system was not robust enough to endure the shock to which it was necessarily subjected.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

The case of John Wolf, Jr., vs. the Marine Oil Compaay occupied the attention of the Court yesterday. This was an action to recover seven months' salary of twenty-five hundred dollars per year. After some five months had elapsed plaintiff was removed from the position, and the company paid him the amount which they claimed to be due him up to date. The action is brought to recover the amount due for the remainder of the year. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $1,567.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Sterrett.

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning and the following business was transacted:

The jury in the case of Wm. B. Hallins, previously reported as on trial for obtaining money under false pretences, found a verdict of not guilty, the costs to be divided between the prosecutor and defendant.

The case of Milton Ceine, indicted for an assault and battery with intent to commit a rape, was concluded. The jury found a verdict of guilty of assault and battery.

The case of Michael Creighton, indicted for larceny, was called up. The case was previously tried and a verdict of guilty was rendered, but a new trial was awarded. This morning a jury was sworn and a verdict of not guilty was given, and the defendant discharged.

Elizabeth Cook was arraigned on an indictment for the larceny of a bonnet frame from the store of Mr. R. H. Palmer, on Market street, on the 13th of October last. The jury found a verdict of not guilty.

L. D. Kueckler, a dentist doing business in Allegheny, was arraigned on an indictment for committing a rape on the person of Catharine Wortz. The jury found a verdict of guilty in a former trial, when a motion was made for a new trial and arrest of judgment. The new trial was granted, and yesterday the jury acquitted the prisoner without quitting the box.

The jurors in attendance were discharged with the thanks of the Court, and jury trials adjourned until the first Monday of December.

Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

In the case of Frederick Werner vs. R. T. Brown, garneshee of C. Zimmerman, the jury was withdrawn and a judgment entered for the defendant.

The next case taken up was that of J. H. Greenough vs. P. D. Miller & Co. This was an action to recover $124.20, alleged to be due from defendants for cleaning bricks on Fourth avenue in July last. Verdict for plaintiff for $14.37.

Allegheny City vs. Western Pennsylvania Railroad.

For some time past a conflict has been going on between the municipal authorities of Allegheny City and the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in regard to the ownership of a small strip of land abutting on the line of the railroad, in the Fourth ward of the city, and designated as North Canal street. The Company claim that the ground in question was a part of the bed of the old canal which they purchased previous to the building of the rail road, while the city authorities contend that the company purchased only a sufficient amount of ground to suffice for the laying of their track and that the street is a regular, surveyed and public thoroughfare of the municipality of Allegheny. There have been several collisions between the parties in the matter, all of which, however, left the question of ownership unsettled, but the result of the events of yesterday, will doubtless put an end to the dispute in future. It seems that, a number of the employees of the company were engaged in digging up the ground and hauling it away to ballast, some portion of the road in the vicinity, when their action were noticed by Street Commissioner Thomas Megraw, who ordered them to desist. Upon their refusing to comply with his command, Mr. Megraw proceeded to the Mavor's office and lodged informations against them for a violation of the city ordinance, which forbids dirt or gravel to be dug up from the streets. within its boundaries, except by orders of the Street Commissioners. Warrants were issued and the accused arrested. When brought before Mayor Drum they waived a hearing and gave bail for Court.

The difficulty is thus in a fair way for settlement, as the Court in deciding on the case will be compelled to decide the question of ownership.

Street Improvements.

Street Commissioner McFaden, by order of the Street Committee, is repairing Fifth (Pennsylvania) avenue, the expense to by charged to the Oakland Passenger Railway Company.

Miltenberger street, between Locust street and the Bluff, and Fifth avenue and St. Patricks alley, is being graded and paved.

New crossings are being laid on the north side of Fifth avenue, at its intersection with Ross street.

Ross street is also being repaired, and the old track of the Oakland Railway Company taken up.

The sewer on Fourth avenue is still under way, and the thoroughfare between Wood and Smithfield streets is consequently closed to travel.

In Allegheny that portion of Federal street which was torn up by the sewer is being repaired. The sewer is not yet completed, but will probably be finished sometime before next spring.

The paving of Chestnut street has been completed and that thoroughfare is open for travel. A number of flagtone crossings are being laid on streets in different parts of the city, an improvement which is justly appreciated by pedestrians.

Singing School.

One of the most desirable and delightful accomplishments is that of being a good vocalist, for who is not moved and influenced by the melody of a sweet song. To attain this power, however, of moving others and, indeed, adding immeasurably to the pleasures of one's own life, it is necessary that instruction be received and a course of training be gone through with under the supervision of a competent instructor. It is with pleasure, therefore, that we heartily recommend to the young masters and misses, who may be desirous of perfecting themselves in this important part of a good education, the singing school of Prof. W. H. Slack, which opens its fall session this afternoon in Davis Hall, Water street, at 2¼ o'clock. The Professor is so well known in this vicinity as a superior vocalist and competent instructor, and his past success in this line has been so satisfactory that we deem it unnecessary to add anything further, than the simple announcement of the opening of the school.

Mortuary Report.

Dr. A. G. M'Candless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city of Pittsburgh for the week commencing November 8th and ending November 14th, 1868:

Diseases—Apoplexy, 1; Bronchitis, 3; Consumption, 4; Cancer of Uteras, 1; Dysentery, 1; Hepatitis, 1; Heart Disease, 1; Dropsy, 1; Accident, 1; Typhoid Fever, 1; Croup, 2; Epileptic Fit, 1; Burned, 1; Pneumonia, 2; Debility, 2.

Females...... 12 | Colored ... 2 }

Of the above there were under one year, 3; from 1 to 2, 4; from 2 to 5, 1, from 5 to 10, 1; from 10 to 15, 1; from 15 to 20, 1; from 20 to 30, 2; from 30 to 40, 2; from 40 to 50, 2; from 50 to 60, 4; from 60 to 70, 3.

Two Dwellings Burned in Allegheny—Collision of Hose Carriages.

Shortly before two o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in a two story frame building in Spring Garden avenue, a short distance beyond the toll gate. An alarm was sounded from box 63, of the fire alarm, located at the corner of Third and Chestnut streets, to which the fire department promptly responded. Before the steamers arrived, however, the fire had made such headway as to preclude the possibility of saving the house or the adjoining one to which the flames had communicated. By their exertions, the fire was confined to the buildings named, both of which were entirely destroyed.

The buildings were owned and occupied by Peter Lehr and Daniel Walter, and were partially covered with insurance. Most of the household effects contained in them were destroyed, upon which there was no insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue. A collision of a somewhat serious nature occurred between the Friendship and Good Will hose companies. It seems that the alarm was struck from two boxes, which caused a confusion among the firemen.

The members of the Friendship Hose Company, supposing that the fire was in Manchester, proceeded with their reel in that direction, and while going down Ohio avenue they came in contact with the reel of the Good Will Company, which was coming from the opposite direction, and owing to the darkness the drivers were unable to distinguish the approach of each other until too late to prevent the collision which occurred.

Mr. John Harter, who was seated on the Friendship reel, was thrown from his seat and suffered painful injuries, his leg being severely bruised and lacerated. The driver of the Good Will reel was also thrown from his seat, but fortunately escaped with but slight injuries. Both reels were considerably damaged, that of the Friendship Company having the shafts broken and the running gear put out of order. The Good Will Company's apparatus was also broken in several places, but it can easily be repaired. The accident, though an unfortunate one, was unavoidable, and no blame can be attached to the drivers of either Company.

Tour of Inspection.

The Committee appointed by the Allegheny Councils to visit and report on the adaptability of several sites which had been offered for the contemplated Poor Farm, assembled at the Depot of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad yesterday morning. The Committee were accompanied by a number of invited guests, consisting principally of members of Councils and the Directors of the Poor, and the party, numbering in all about sixty persons, took the nine A. M. train and proceeded on their journey. They were absent from the city during the entire day, and returned about eight o'clock in the evening. Three farms were examined, each of which seemed, in some respects, well calculated for the purpose, but as the Committee kept their own counsels we do not know upon which they will report favorably or whether they will report favorably to any of them. The farms examined are all in communication with the city by means of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, and consisted of the Boyd Farm, located about eight miles distant, the Coffin and McKeown Farm and the Brackenridge, located on either side of Tarentum, about twenty miles from Allegheny. The Committee made a thorough inspection of each, and will report at the next meeting of Councils. Notwithstanding the disagreeableness of the weather, the trip was made a very pleasant one by the hospitality and courtesy which the party received from those with whom they came in contact.

The Allegheny Pig Question.

MESSRS. EDITORS: A communication appeared in your columns, on Thursday, signed "Citizen," in which the writer asserts that in the enforcement of the ordinance relative to the banishment of hogs from the city, countenance is given to boys in impounding the animals, and that many "cases are known where these boys have invaded private premises, torn away fences and burst open pens to steal away pigs and drive them to the Mayor's office, where they are rewarded for their wickedness by the lawful fee, sometimes getting all, but more often sharing with policemen managing the business." Now, Messrs. Editors, the fact is none of the policemen have anything to do with the matter at all. A person has been employed specially to attend to it, and he receives all the animals that are brought to pound, paying to those by whom they are brought, whether boys or men, the lawful fee. It would be a rather difficult transaction for persons who are unknown to each other and who never meet, to compound in the sharing of profits in any business, which we think even "Citizen" will admit.

In regard to the other part of the communication, which makes it the duty of the policemen alone to enforce the ordinance, it can only be said that the present police force of Allegheny is none too large now for the duties which it is expected and required to perform, and if the ordinance must be enforced by policemen alone, a large addition will have to be made to their numbers. POLICEMAN.

An Unruly Boarder.

Peter Harington is a boarder at the house of Mrs. Mary Miller. Under ordinary circumstances Peter is said to be a quiet, inoffensive personage, but in some instances circumstances alter his case, as was the case yesterday. Peter it is alleged came home under the influence of liquor, which made him just the reverse of good humored. According to the statement of the hired girl at the house, Mary Davis, he attacked her in a savage manner, beating, abusing, knocking her down, and using his foot to help her up again. While this performance was going on the landlady arrived and taking in the situation at a glance, she quickly flew to the rescue of the unfortunate Mary, but instead of being successful in her humane efforts, she states that, somehow her nose was surrounded by Peter's teeth and almost severed from her face. After the difficulty was over the two victims of Peter's illhumor, repaired to Alderman M'Masters' office and lodged informations against the assailant for assault and battery and mayhem, upon which warrants were issued.

Robbery of a Cigar Shop.

The cigar shop of Mr. Charles McEnulty, No. 43 Smithfield street, was entered at an early hour yesterday morning by some thieves, supposed to have been boys, who broke open the money drawer and abstracted therefrom about eight dollars, which it contained. The show case was also opened and a few dollars' worth of choice cigars taken out. When the proprietor opened the store this morning he found the rear window, through which an entrace had been effected, open, the money drawer turned upon the counter, the contents of the show case all in disorder, and everything in a condition which bespoke ungentle handling. There is no clue to the thieves.

The Weed "Family Favorite" is the most popular sewing machine of the day. It fully deserves success, and this fact is but another evidence that the community can discriminate, and will always sustain a meritorious article. The office is at 112 Grant street, opposite the Cathedral.

White country blankets, at very low prices, at William Semple's, Nos. 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny.

The Art of Glass Staining.

Of all the arts brought into requisition by mankind for the adornment of public and private residences, perhaps none is less understood than the art of Glass Staining. The true history of the origin of the art, like the origin of Glass making, is unknown. For years the world has accepted the story of the shipwrecked sailors of Tyre, and received unquestioned the tales told of Venetian Glass Staining, but modern research has destroyed the last fragment upon which they rested. Various specimens of stained and enameled Glass are to be found in the art cabinets and museums of Europe that, up to the present day, defy imitation. Even the art of producing the colors these specimens embrace has been lost. Each artist made his own colors, pursuing his studies in secret, like the painters, and their art died with them.

One of the commonest errors concerning stained glass is the supposition that what is termed stained glass is merely painted glass. The manner in which the various tints and colors are produced is scarcely less wonderful than the changes which mark the various steps in the transformation of the caterpillar into a beautiful butterfly. All the colors we see in stained glass are made from the oxides of various metals. Gold and silver is largely employed in the art. The nicety of the color depends upon the length of time the sheets are subjected to the heat, and in the different degrees of its intensity, since the colors obtained in the glass are burned into, and, in reality, become a part of it, hence it is impossible for it to fade. The stained glass in the famous cathedrals of Europe retains precisely the same color to-day that pleased the eye of those who worshipped in them five hundred years ago. It will be seen from this that the difference between stained and painted glass is as different as any two things that can be conceived.

A single firm in this city have devoted their attention to the task of revolutionizing the business as it has been conducted heretofore in this country. Up to a recent date glass staining in America has been limited to the operations of parties whose facilities were necessarily limited. They obtained their material from the manufacturer, and were unable to produce any considerable amount of work even under the most favorable circumstances. The manufacturer, on the other hand, has provided to his hand extraordinary facilities for producing an article equally as good as that produced by the small dealer, if not superior. Messrs. Page, Zellers & Duff, the firm in question, have been largely engaged in glass manufacturing. Imitating one of the most successful glass manufacturing and glass staining firms in England, they combined the business of glass staining and enameling with glass making. Their works were constructed with extraordinary care; their flattening ovens being built upon a method that insures perfect work, while the process of flattening adopted by them is such as to produce a perfectly level, clear, crystal sheet, exhibiting a high polish. Here then they have a basis for a superior article of stained, enameled or ground glass. The outer surface of the stained glass manufactured by this firm, unlike the greater portion of the stained glass we have examined, is perfectly smooth, retaining the high polish secured in the flattening oven. Their facilities enable them to furnish new and rare designs to order upon short notice. Special patterns of every sort, plain or elaborate, furnished to parties interested in church buildings, halls, school-houses and all kind of public buildings. The work produced by the firm requires no endorsement; it speaks for itself.

New Dry Goods at the lowest prices, on West Corner Market St., and Fourth Avenue, No. 69, E. R. Gardner.

Mark Twain, in his lecture on Thursday night, did not say anything about the magnificent stock of goods now held at the extensive Masonic Hall Auction Salesrooms of H. B. Smithson & Co., 55 and 57 Fifth avenue. The lines of boots and shoes for men and women, boys and girls, are very full and complete, and, as usual, the prices are away down below the actual cost of manufacture. The visitor will find a splendid assortment of carpets, blankets, shirts, drawers, horse covers, buffalo and lap robes, furs, dry goods and notions generally, which are being sold at prices much lower than ever before prevailed in this city. The dealer, who buys to sell again, or retail purchasers, will find everything they want at this house, and it is clearly to their advantage to bestow a large share of patronage on it.

Toilet Articles.—Decidedly the finest assortment of toilet articles yet displayed at the popular drug store of Burns & Caughey, corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, has just been opened and will attract the attention of both gentlemen and ladies. The stock embraces combs, hair brushes, nail brushes, tooth brushes, toiles sets in great variety, cologne sets, and everything else in the line, which are offered at very reasonable prices. We advise our lady friends to drop in at Burns & Caughey's and look through the assortment and satisfy themselves that they can nowhere else be better suited.

Our Honors.—The simple announcement that a Weed Sewing Machine has been presented to the "King of Dahomey," or the "Emperor Soloque," argues nothing for its merits or usefulness; but the important fact that during the past two years it has been sold, and is used in more families in this city and vicinity than any other, speaks more potently than royal honors, and shows conclusively how it is appreciated; and that it has become a necessity in every American household. The office in this city is at 112 Grant street.

At William Semples', Nos. 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny, will be found a splendid fresh stock of seasonable dry goods, blankets, cloaking cloths, millinery goods, hosiery, gloves, ladies' underwear, mens' underclothing, laces, trimmings and notions generally. Nowhere else in either city can a larger stock at more reasonable prices be obtained to select from.

Clearing Out Sale of Hats.—Joseph Horne & Co. are selling off their present large stock of Hats at astonishingly low prices. Good Hats can be had for 20 to 25c. Our readers would do well to remember this, by calling at once and securing bargains in that line.

We have received from their various publishers copies of Frank Leslie's, Lippincott's, the Galaxy and Atlantic magazines for December. They are all about as good as usual, each in its own particular sphere.

The primest and most luscious of oysters can be obtained only at the first class dining rooms of William Holtzheimer, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice.

W. W. Morehead, 81 Market street, has just received everything that is new and fashionable in the way of embrideries, lace goods, trimmings and notions.

Seasonable Dry Goods—Where to Get Them.

The recent fall of snow gives token of the approach of winter, when it behooves all to be warm and suitably clad so that they be secure against biting frosts and chilling winds. And as dry goods, furs, etc., cost money, we are sure the reader will thank us for directing them to an old, well established and popular house, where their wants can be supplied at rates about as low as those of any other establishment in the city. Of course we have reference to the Dry Goods House of Bates & Bell, 21 Fifth Avenue. And it really seems like a work of superogation to do more than merely make the announcement that this firm, in addition to their previons large, varied and seasonable stock, haye just received and are opening an immense addition thereto, consisting of every variety of goods pertaining a first-class wholesale and retail dry goods emporium. As this firm purchase exclusively for cash, and are always on the ground to take advantage of the fluctuations of the eastern markets, they are enabled to sell at astonishingly low prices. Another marked feature is that customers can always implicitly rely upon representations made as to the quality of any article purchased, as salesmen are peremptorily prohibited from the slightest misrepresentations for the purpose of effecting sales. As the holidays are fast approaching when appropriate gifts will be the order, go to Bates & Bell's, No. 21 Fifth Avenue, where something suitable for every age and condition in life can be procured at very low prices.

Shawls and Cloaks—A fine assortment at
BATES & BELL'S.

Hoop Skirts and Corsets.
BATES & BELL'S.

A busy man is a locomotive, and life a track. Every night he drives into "the house," and stops. Every morning he is fired up anew, and away he goes switching off in one direction and then in another. In this routine of business he forgets that the physical organization is of the most delicate kind. If a hard iron locomotive needs constant care, and to be well oiled up and rubbed off every day, how much more necessary is it that all men and women should use PLANTATION BITTERS, which are the ne plus ultra of everything which is necessary to keep the system in a perfect tone of health.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. TH.S.T'F.

An Article of True Merit.—"BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES" are the most popular article in this country or Europe for Throat Diseases and Coughs, and this popularity is based upon real merit, which cannot be said of many other preparations in the market, which are really but weak imitations of the genuine Troches.

Deafness, Blindness, Catarrh,

And all affections of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver and Nervous System, treated successfully at Dr. Aborn's Medical and Surgical Institute, No. 134 Smithfield street. tf.
